THE GENEVA CONFERENCE.

GENEVA, June 19.—The Tribunal of Arbitration will meet this afternoon pro forma. The next adjournment will be for a longer period than the last. A resolute effort is being made to settle the cardinal difference which have arisen between the English and American Governments.

NEW YORK, June 19.—A special from Geneva says the American and British agents have been busy in holding consultations and receiving dispatches. It is evident that unless counsel on both sides come to some agreement to-night (Thursday), at the formal meeting of the board on Wednesday the motion to adjourn will again be brought before the Board, in which case an adjournment for several days is probable. Efforts are being made to adjourn till next week in hopes that Granville and Fish may arrive at an understanding.

GENEVA, June 19.—The board of arbitration met today, and adjourned until the 26th inst. It is expected that intelligence will be received by that date which will prove favorable to a settlement of the differences.

GENEVA, June 19.—After the sitting of the Board to-day, Secretary Favrot informed the representatives of the press that they would be admitted to the council room as soon as certain delicate questions were settled.

There is a vague impression that the indirect claims are causing fresh difficulties.

It is said that the arbitrators will give a decision on the question of adjournment at the next session, even in the absence of the parties interested.

Important dispatches from London are expected by the British representatives here, which will determine their course of action on Wednesday next.

GREAT BRITAIN.

STEAMSHIP STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

LIVERPOOL, June 19.—During a severe thunder storm the steamship Memphis, from new Orleans, was struck by lightning, and immediately took fire. The fire raged for several hours, but was finally extinguished. The loss is very heavy.

THE TREATY OF WASHINGTON.

Col. T. W. Higginson, of Massachusetts, was entertained by the Century Club last night. He made a brief speech, declaring that he had no fear that diplomatic complications would result in the failure of the Treaty of Washington. Delays were sometimes dangerous, but in affairs of this kind were frequently mere pledges of safety.

RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

LONDON, June 19.—An accident occurred to a train on the Midland railroad to-day.

AQUATIC CHALLENGE.

The London and Atalanta crews have received a challenge from a Paris boat club.

LABOR LOCK-OUT.

A lock-out was begun to-day by the builders of this city. By this act 20,000 journeymen are thrown out of employment.

NONSENSICAL RUMOR.

There is a rumor that Miss Nellie Grant is engaged to be married to a Scotch Lord.

SPAIN.

RISING IN ANDALUSIA.

LONDON, June 19.—There has been a partial rising of Republicans in Andalusia since the Conservatives proposed the Dictatorship of Serrano with absolute powers for spending money and suspending the Constitution. The Conservatives are enraged at the rejection of their proposals by the King, and say that the last attempt at forming a Conservative Ministry under Amadeus has been tried. A Serranist journal says that Serrano has left for England in disgust, and Sagosta for France. The Radicals are arming the town and the population.

REAPPEARANCE OF CARLIST INSURGENTS.

MADRID, June 19.—The Government has received intelligence of the reappearance of Carlist insurgents in the provinces of Tarragona, Biscay and Galicia.

RESIGNATION OF VALMASEDA.

It is said that Valmaseda, Captain-General of Cuba, has resigned.

GERMANY.

PROSCRIBING JESUITS.

BERLIN, June 19.—The bill proscribing Jesuits passed its third reading in the Reichstag by a vote of 181 to 93. Minister Delbruck closed the session of the Reichstag this afternoon.

HAYTIAN INDEMNITY ENFORCED.

An official dispatch from Port au Prince reports that on the 11th inst. the German men-of-war Venoe and Gazelle took forcible possession of two Haytian corvettes, and held them until the Haytians paid the indemnity demanded by German merchants. There was no blood shed.

THE NEXT POPE.

The North German Gazette, in a leading article, hints that Germany will make her influence felt in the election of the next Pope.

ITALY.

A CONFLICT INEVITABLE.

ROME, June 19.—The Pope has addressed a letter to Cardinal Antonelli, deploring the approaching enforcement of the law suppressing convents in Italy as a violation of international law, he says the constant encroachments on the rights of the Church by the Government of Italy violates morality and justice. Only a regard for the highest interests prevent the head of the Church from leaving Rome. A conflict between the Holy See and the Italian Government is inevitable and reconciliation impossible. The Pope cannot submit to such usurpations, and he requests Antonelli to protest against them to foreign powers.

FRANCE.

GERMAN EVACUATION.

PARIS, June 19.—Negotiations for the evacuation of France are progressing rapidly between Thiers and Count Von Arnim. The departments of Marne and Haute Marne are to be evacuated in a few weeks after the signing of the convention, the details of which are nearly completed.

FATAL RAILWAY COLLISION.

PARIS, June 19.—Two trains came in collision at Inisvy, on the Orleans railway, to-day. Thirty persons were injured and several killed outright. The number of the dead is not stated.

CHICAGO.

Meeting of Western Associated Press—Meeting of Temperance Men—An Insane Traveler—Libel Suit Concluded.

CHICAGO, June 19.—The annual meeting of the Western Associated Press was held at the Tremont House in this city at ten o'clock this morning. Nearly every paper in the association was represented. The old officers of the association were re-elected, the only change being that Mr. Siebeneck, of the Pittsburgh Chronicle, was added to the Executive Committee, and Wm. Hyde, of the St. Louis Republican, was elected on the Executive Committee in place of D. M. Houser, formerly of the Missouri Democrat.

At one o'clock the members of the association took carriages for a drive through the burnt district. This afternoon they will go upon an excursion to Hyde Park, where a banquet and ball will be given this evening.

The members of the Associated Press, accompanied by a large number of gentlemen and ladies of this city, made an excursion to Hyde Park this evening, where there was a handsome collation, afterwards a dancing party, which broke up at midnight, and returned to the city by a special train on the Illinois Central railroad. Everybody was delighted with the entertainment, which was given by the local press.

Board of Directors for the ensuing year are as follows: H. N. Walker, of the Detroit Free Press, President; H. C. Baker, of the Detroit Tribune, Secretary; James Medill of the Chicago Tribune; Richard Smith, of the Cincinnati Gazette; W. N. Haldeman, of the Louisville Courier Journal; W. D. Beckhall, of the Dayton Journal; Jas. G. Siebeneck, of the Pittsburgh Chronicle, and Wm. Hyde, of the St. Louis Republican.

The Executive Committee consists of Messrs. Medill, Smith and Haldeman, as heretofore.

MEETING OF TEMPERANCE MEN.

The National Divisions of the Sons of Temperance of America commenced their annual session here this morning. Delegates are present from every State and Territory in the Union, and from the British provinces.

INSANE TRAVELER.

Gilbert W. Flague, claiming to reside in New York city, came to the station house last evening in an insane condition, and asked the protection of the police, which was accorded him.

UTAH.

Editorial Excursion—Supreme Court Adjourned—Fight in a Tunnel—New Railway.

SALT LAKE, June 18.—The Iowa editors, one hundred in number, leave this city via steamer on Salt Lake for the east to-morrow.

FIGHT IN A TUNNEL.

A report from Little Cottonwood is to the effect that a collision occurred on Sunday under ground between the occupants of the Illinois tunnel and the Emma excavation, during which numerous fire arms were used, and no one injured. The laborers on the Illinois tunnel have been busily engaged sacking ore at the point worked by the Emma before the cave. Interested parties circulate various rumors, but there is no question as to the enormous bulk of ore worked.

NEW RAILWAY.

The ceremony of breaking ground on the Utah, Idaho and Montana Railroad took place to-day at Corinth.

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNED.

The Supreme Court of the Territory met today, and adjourned until October next.

THE CAPITAL.

Movements of the President.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, June 19, 1872.

THE PRESIDENT'S MOVEMENTS.

The President left Washington to-night for Long Branch. On Saturday the President will be in New York, to take farewell of his son Ulysses, who will leave for Europe for educational purposes. The President will not again come to Washington until the 6th of July, unless important public business demands his presence before that time.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Clear and partially cloudy weather prevail on Thursday from the Mississippi to the Atlantic, with probably areas of light rain over the upper lake region; light to fresh southerly winds veering to westerly, south-west of the Ohio valley; light to fresh easterly to southerly for the Southern States; light to fresh south-easterly to south-westerly for the New England and Middle States.

UNINTELLIGIBLE TELEGRAMS.

Secretary Fish received telegrams to-day from Geneva, but not being intelligible, he requested that they be repeated.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, June 18, 1872.

SUMNER USED.

It would certainly be mortifying to every considerate American, if he could be convinced that Charles Sumner had descended from the height of honor and purity as a statesman to which he has risen in the past thirty years of his Senatorial life, to be a mere football for the enemies of freedom in these his ripest years. His last Senatorial effort is capable of no other explanation than this, viz: his personal malignity towards President Grant, but if we are to put confidence in the statement of "Zeta," a very talented and generally accurate Democratic Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, we shall be brought to this conclusion. In this morning's paper he says:

"Mr. Sumner is in Washington, and will continue to remain here until July. He is almost daily called on by colored people from the South anxious to know what side he intends to take in the Presidential campaign. Mr. Sumner assures them that he will in no event support Grant, but he does not go so far as to say that he will favor Greeley and Brown. He thinks the civil rights plank of the Philadelphia platform a piece of jugglery, and hopes the Baltimore Convention will take bolder ground. He is evidently doubtful in his own mind over the position he ought to take, from the pressure brought on him by his colored friends; but yesterday he was informed that their demonstrations on him were instigated by the administration, with a view of keeping him quiet."

So far as this is an implied admission that the colored people are a unit in favor of Grant and, that they constantly call upon him, and bring a pressure to bear on Sumner in favor of his advocacy of Grant and Wilson. This is cheering news, and is really, the best evidence of it's own truth being the admission of a witness against his interest. But when the author asserts that Mr. Sumner was yesterday informed that his colored friends were instigated by the administration with a view of keeping him quiet, and that he assures that he will in no event support Grant, it puts him in the very pitiful position of being used by his enemies, and implies on his part the utmost puerility in politics. His alleged view of the civil rights plank of the Philadelphia platform cannot be true or, he has spread himself on this specialty for years past to very little purpose. True, he is only partially responsible for the use his enemies make of him, but the course he has latterly pursued of standing back from the men and the party who sympathise in the main with him, and thus inviting his life long enemies to widen the breach between him and his most cherished principles cannot fail to bring upon him the animadversions of those who in the past have loved him best, and venerated him most.

POLITICAL MOVEMENT.

A grand demonstration in favor of Grant and Wilson will come off here on Thursday next, at which it is expected there will be a magnificent turnout of Republicans. A large proportion of the residents of the city and District, who have not hitherto taken any interest in politics, are now giving the administration their warm support. As the improvements of the city go forward, and life and progress are diffused by the territorial government of the District, the true interest of the citizen is to support those who, more than all others, have brought about general prosperity in the neighborhood of the Capitol.

THE NEW YORK CONFERENCE.

The free trade liberals, headed by Carl Schurz having called a conference to be held in New York, have been tearfully appealed to by the Blair regency not to break into the well laid plans of the Dolly Vardens which threaten to "gang aglee" in case they do not stand by Greeley. The liberal papers are trying all they can to explain away the New York movement, and to show that it means only to mollify opposition to Greeley and the Cincinnati platform. That is just the thing aimed at by the change of platform which is wanted will cut both ways, and woe to the Dolly Varden family, if the door to the tariff is opened to the conference. Republicans can afford to bide their time in patience, and let New York and Baltimore do their best.

THE BEAM AND THE MOTE.

Senator Sumner's residence here is said to be fairly cumbered from attic to wine vault with gifts received from our representatives abroad during his chairmanship of the Committee on Foreign Relations. He is a pretty lecturer on the errors of others in receiving presents. Consistency, thou art a jewel.

General Grant is in the city and looking calm as a May morning. He attended a meeting of the Cabinet to-day, at which considerable routine business was transacted.

General Jubal Early refuses, like many other earnest Southerners, to support Greeley for President. He is rather suspicious that Horace will not take care of the fighting men of the Southern side, as Democrats are bound to do. He will have to be whipped in.

The District Legislature have made eight hours a day's work and $2 the price of every day's work done on all District improvements and walls of the city. AGATE.

BOSTON.

The Musical Jubilee—Vaterland's Day—Meeting of Artillery Association.

BOSTON, June 19.—The third day of the jubilee was devoted to Germany, and the Coliseum was well filled, with the Teutonic element predominating. The concert opened with a choral from Luther, "A Strong Castle is our Lord," followed by Wagners' overture from Tannahauser; Mendelshon's chorus, "Yet Doth the Lord;" an aria, "E Varie," sung by Peschta Leutner; "Farewell to the Forest," by Strauss; "Morgenblatze" waltz, conducted by Strauss, and piano solo by Franz Bendel, all of which were rendered in fine style, and elicited great applause.

The band of Kaiser Franz's Grenadiers created immense enthusiasm as it took a position on the stage. Herr Laro led it through several selections, meeting with great favor. The German Union Hymn, dedicated to the Emperor of Germany, was next sung by the grand chorus, accompanied by the organ, orchestra and bands. The audience greeted it with cheers, waving of handkerchiefs, etc., the German band responding with "Hail Columbia," "Yankee Doodle" and "Watch on the Rhine."

The Imperial Cornet Quartette of Germany were received with great applause. They performed several selections, and were heartily encored. Franz Abt directed the performance of his own ballad, "When the Swallows Homeward Fly," at the conclusion of which the whole audience rose and cheered for several minutes. The "Anvil Chorus" followed, with all the accompaniments, and the concert concluded with the hymn "Kingdoms and Thrones," with a full chorus, organ and orchestra.

MEETING OF ARTILLERY ASSOCIATION.

The first annual meeting of the Artillery Association of the Army of the Potomac was held here this afternoon, and was well attended by comrades. There was also a number of distinguished guests, among whom were Governor Washburne, Governor Geary, of Pennsylvania, Governor Wilmot, of New Brunswick, Governor Harvey, of Kansas, and Governor Baldwin, of Michigan. General William F. Barry was elected President for the ensuing year.

PHILADELPHIA.

Capture of an Escaped Sing Sing Convict—Stolen Bonds Recovered—Strike of Garment Cutters.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Walter Williams, alias Wm. Mitchell, who was convicted in Poughkeepsie in October, 1869, and who was one of a gang who escaped from Sing Sing last summer by means of a tug boat, has been captured by Lieut. Kase of the Eighth Police District. When taken into custody he had on his person $21,800 in railroad and market bonds, stolen from the Iron and Glass Bank at Birmingham, Pa., last week.

STRIKE OF GARMENT CUTTERS.

The strike of garment cutters has proved successful. At a meeting of the trade to-day, the following resolution was passed:

Be it Resolved, By the clothing cutters in mass meeting assembled, that in consideration of certain firms of the trade having signified their willingness to accede to their employes the eight hour system, but have scruples against signing a circular, we consent that the employes of such firms may resume work for the present, after applying to the Central Committee, with evidence of the fact, and obtaining their leave.

The manufacturers of this city this afternoon passed a resolution declaring their unalterable determination to adhere to the ten hour system, and to resent the present strike to the bitter end.

CALIFORNIA.

Destruction of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—By the destruction of the seaport of Hamida, on the Japanese island of Zekishu, by an earthqake, five hundred perished.

By the sinking of the steamer Roma, in a collison with the French steamer Ava, near Honghar, on May 4, Messrs. Memedin and McQuarte, second and third engineers, and Messrs. Hooie and Smyle, chief and third officers, with Dr. Thompson, the head compradore, and fifty-four other Chinese, were drowned.

CINCINNATI.

Death in a Saloon—Vindication of Rev. M. J. Cramer.

CINCINNATI, June 19.—A saloon keeper named Jacob Theis became involved in a difficulty with Michael Nussbaum, a cattle dealer, at a saloon in the suburbs of the city, last night, when Jacob Martin, Theis' brother-in-law, seeing that Theis was getting the worst of the encounter, threw a large boulder at Nussbaum, striking him on the right temple, shattering his skull and causing instantaneous death.

VINDICATION OF REV. M. J. CRAMER.

The Committee of Ministers appointed by the Cincinnati Methodist Conference to investigate certain correspondence involving the good character of Rev. M. J. Cramer, Minister to Denmark, reported as follows:

WHEREAS, Repeated and divers attacks upon the moral and official character of the Rev. M. J. Cramer have appeared in many of the newspapers of the country during the last few months, and our attention having been called to an article from C. H. Wolf, Esq., of this city, published in the Cincinnati Gazette of the 15th of May, 1872, and reproduced in the Western Christian Advocate of the 24th of the same month, being a full and general defence of Mr. Cramer in the premises, founded upon reliable correspondence, and

WHEREAS, The Rev. J. Willerup, by letter of May 8th, and G. W. Griffin, by letter of May 13, both of Copenhagen, together with other citizens of the same city, have certified directly to this preachers' meeting most fully as to his blameless and upright official and moral character, and repudiated as to the utter falsity of all of the said charges, all of which have been carefully considered by your committee; therefore,

Resolved, First—That the oft-repeated aspersions against the good character of the Rev. M. J. Cramer have been a source of profound regret and mortification to us, his brethren in the Christian ministry, as they have been from time to time heralded in the public prints.

Second—That as a minister in regular and good standing in Conference membership with us for many years, our knowledge and familiarity with him were such as to justify the belief that those attacks upon his character and standing found their origin in partisan feelings, and are false.

Third—That we accept Mr. Wolff's defense as aforesaid, together with our correspondence alluded to, as a timely and full refutation of said charges, making them unworthy of our further notice.

Signed, A. B. Wambaugh, James F. Chalfant, L. T. Vanclever, M. C. Briggs, C. W. Ketchum, Thomas Lee, Committee.

A true copy. JAS. F. CHALFANT.

The above paper was unanimously adopted by the Preachers' Meeting, June 17th, 1872.

GOVERNMENT TAX SUIT DECIDED.

The jury in the United States Court to-day, in the case of the Government against Messrs. Foulton, Hill & Williams, gave a verdict for the plaintiff of $300,000, being the amount of tax and penalty sued for as fraudulently withheld from the Government by the defendants on distilled spirits.

The case against Daniel Gelson, who was one of the defendants, was dismissed. The trial has lasted nearly three weeks.

DISTINGUISHED DEAD.

The Bavarian Prime Minister.

Count Von Heghenberg-Dux, the Prime Minister of King Louis of Bavaria, and one of the most eminent of German statesmen, died on the 3d of June, at Munich, in his sixty-second year. He was born in 1810, and the Emperor Napoleon the first was his godfather. He was appointed, in his fourteenth year, page at the court of the eccentric King Louis the First, whose favorite he became, and who appointed him, in his twentieth year, First Chamberlain, and took him with on his travels in Italy, Greece and the Orient. The revolutionary events of 1830 and the following years, however, made so powerful an impression upon the Count that he resigned his position at the royal court and joined the liberal party.

He was naturally eloquent, and in 1834 was elected to the second Bavarian Chamber, where he soon became one of the leaders of the Liberal party, and distinguished himself by the fearless manner in which he attacked the ultramontanes and exposed certain abuses in the administration of public affairs. He held his seat in the Chamber for twenty-nine years in succession. From 1847 to 1865 he was President of the Chamber. He was one of the earliest and most earnest advocates of Bismarck's policy in regard to the unification of Germany under Prussian supremacy, and it was owing to his influence over King Louis II. that the latter at the breaking out of the war between Prussia and France came so promptly to the assistance of the former, and even before the close of the war offered to King William the imperial crown of Germany. Count Hegnenberg-Dux put a stop to the vacillating course of King Louis in regard to the Old Catholics, and in August, 1871, the government at once began to protect the Old Catholics fully from the persecutions of the ultramontane Bishops and Bavaria became the principal bulwark of German opposition to the reactionary tendencies of the Vatican.

The death of this statesman may bring about important changes in the attitude of Bavaria toward the German empire. The particularists and ultramontanes at the court of Munich will undoubtedly make a desperate attempt to regain their lost power; and the character of the young King is so fickle that they may be partly successful.

Norman Macleod, D. D.

A telegraphic dispatch from London announces the death of the distinguished author and divine at the age of sixty years. Dr. Macleod was the son of Rev. Norman Macleod, a distinguished Scotch Presbyterian minister. He was born in 1812, and was educated in Edinburgh and Glasgow, and in Germany. After taking orders, he became minister of London, in Ayrshire, in 1838; of Dalkeith, in 1843; and of the Barony parish, Glasgow, in 1851. He obtained the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1858. He was an energetic advocate of missionary labor, not only among non-Christian nations, but also among the poorer class in the large cities and towns of Great Britain, and inaugurated a series of evening meetings in his own church in Glasgow, to which none but the working class was admitted, and it became indispensable to wear a fustian jacket in order to gain admittance to these remarkable services. He argued that this class had greater need of the ministrations and instructions of the ablest men in the Church than the wealthy. Dr. Macleod was also one of Her Majesty's chaplains. Among his published works are "Earnest Students;" "Memorials of Macintosh," which appeared in 1871; "Parish Papers," in 1866, in which the results of his visit to India in the interests of the Scottish missions are given. He was the first editor of the monthly magazine, Goods Words, established in 1860, and continued to conduct it until recently, when he was succeeded by Rev. George Macdonald.

A SUPPRESSED LETTER.

Hon. Lewis F. Allen, of Buffalo, to the Editor of Greeley's Organ.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 25, 1872.

Editor New York Tribune.

After a preliminary explanation, permit me to ask you a question touching the business relations between a newspaper and its subscribers.

In the Legislative session of this State at Albany, in 1838, thirty-four years ago, I first became acquainted with Horace Greeley, who was in attendance there, reporting for his paper in your city, called, I believe, the New Yorker. Bating some rather odd idiosyncracies about him, I liked the man for there was stuff in him. In common with the ninety-nine other members of that Whig House of Assembly—there were 100 of us, all told, besides ten or twelve in the Senate—I became his warm personal friend, and have ever since so remained, and have taken the several papers which, during their existence, to the present, he has edited, Jeffersonian, Log Cabin, Tribune. I believed him honest, wonderfully industrious, able, versatile, and, in a majority of his opinions, right. Best of all, I liked his broad philanthropy—his just ideas of political and other economies—Protection to Home Industry, Tariff—and his unconquerable advocacy of and fidelity to human rights. Whenever I have had an opportunity to vote for him, I did it. So much for our political relations.

Now for my question: Whenever I paid my annual subscription for the Tribune, in advance, and which was the rule of the paper, I supposed a mutual tacit understanding existed that the political character of the paper was to continue as it had been, in it's general principles, while I paid for it. I cared nothing abut MR. GREELEY'S personal chrotchets: let them go, if the expression of them suited him. About four months of my present year's subscription have now passed; MR. GREELEY has left the editorial conduct of the paper; its entire political character has changed; and here I am, having paid for a Republican paper, in which I mainly believed, but now, by its change of conduct, do not believe in at all. How stands our contract? I care nothing for the paltry sum of unearned subscription which I have paid, but as a matter of political and business ethics, is it right for you to take my money for what I did not subscribe? I would simply like to know the fact, in order to govern my future newspaper conduct.

In my opinion, three-fourths at least of the Tribune's subscribers are of my own way of thinking, for I have not seen the first pronounced Republican who we believe in your present range of politics, or who, were he not already a subscriber to the paper, would become so.

Please answer my questions, and oblige a subscriber and reader of the Tribune from the beginning. LEWIS F. ALLEN.

Anecdote of Seward.

Not long ago a gentleman was telling me a Senatorial anecdote of, and dating back to, the ante-bellum days. Mr. Seward had made a speech—something about the telegraph—when Mr. Toombs, of Georgia, rose to reply, and made a speech of personal abuse of Seward. He wrought himself up into a rage and lashed about in the most aggressive manner. He finished and took his seat. As Mr. Seward rose from his chair every eye was bent upon him with the greatest anxiety. With calm, measured step, he walked toward Mr. Toombs. It was noticed that his right hand was underneath the rear pocket of his coat. There was apprehension that he was concealing a pistol, and Mr. Toombs' friends crowded around him. When Mr. Seward reached him, he drew out his hand, and opening his snuff-box, politely invited his adversary to take a pinch of snuff. "My God!" said Mr. Toombs, "Mr. Seward, have you no feelings?" "Take a pinch of snuff; it will soothe your agitation." He then returned to his seat without any allusion to Mr. Toombs or his speech, made an able argument in favor of his measure, which carried. Coolness and self-possession will always win the victory over hot temper and passionate invective. —Washington Letter.

SECOND EDITION.

Four O'Clock.

NEW YORK.

Stokes' Trial Commenced.

CAPITAL VS. LABOR.

Strikes on the Wane.

THE SUIT AGAINST GEN. BUTLER.

NEW YORK, June 19, 1872.

STOKE'S TRIAL.

Stoke's trial commenced this morning. The prisoner appears to be in the best of health. On the clerk reading the names of the petit jurors, Mr. McKeon, counsel for Stokes, challenged the panel on the ground that they were not drawn in compliance with the provision of the statute. Counsel noticed on the list a brother of counsel for the prosecution, namely, Benj. Fullerton. He wanted at the outset to get rid of the entire panel.

The District Attorney demurred to the challenge, and Mr. McKeon joined issues in the demurrer. The District Attorney said the statute was merely directory, and not mandatory; Judge Ingraham decided that the challenge was not sustained. The selection of the jury was then proceeded with.

Roderick Hagan Haller, 374 Bowery, was sworn as the second juror. There was no further progress up to the adjournment of the court.

CAPITAL VS. LABOR.

Employers in all branches of manufacture in this city and vicinity met last evening and passed resolutions to reject the eight hour system, and to accept only ten hours for a day's work and to hold out to the bitter end. An executive committee to perfect the work of organization was appointed.

The effects of the strike in Jersey City are already beginning to be felt among the poorer classes.

The excitement about the labor strikes is on the wane, and promises to result most disastrously for the men. The Eight Hour League no longer attracts a concourse equal to the capacity of the Teutonia Assembly Rooms. This morning not more than three hundred or four hundred members were in attendance on the daily session.

At a piano makers' meeting this morning a member arose and urged the men to go to work at once. He argued that the longer the evil day was put off the more abject would be the surrender.

A dispatch from Boston was received, stating that the men are organizing there to go on a strike in the latter part of July.

Peter Cooper has given one thousand dollars towards sustaining the shirt cutters in the strike.

The Singer sewing machine men are still out, and there does not appear any possibility of a speedy or satisfactory adjustment. The sugar refiners are in precisely the same condition as yesterday. The stable men and coach men of Brooklyn will strike on Saturday, unless paid fourteen instead of twelve dollars a week.

TILDEN VS. BUTLER.

Evidence was taken to-day in the case of Tilden vs. General Butler, to the effect that the Nassau was taken for the Government service, and not private uses, and that Butler, in taking the Nassau, did not arbitrarily fix a price for her, but had her value ascertained by a board of surveyors.

Henry L. Sturgis, Captain of the port of New Orleans under Butler, testified that so far as he knew Andrew J. Butler, a brother of Gen. Butler, did not have any interest or control of the towing business at New Orleans at the time General Butler was in command there, and that he (witness) would have known the fact if such interest or control was had.

INCREASE OF BEGGARS.

The Grand Jury of the Court of General Sessions call attention to the increasing number of beggars, and say the growing evil of the exhibition of disgusting deformities ought to be suppressed. They also call attention to the violation of the excise law in the sale of liquors on Sunday.

SANITARY.

The Board of Health resolved that in the future no human dead body be allowed to be buried in any vault or cemetery south of One Hundred and Thirtieth street, and no vaults or cemeteries be opened for any purpose between May and November.

MYSTERIOUS.

A correspondent who interviewed Judge Stallo, on his way to this city to attend the conference meeting of the Liberal Republicans to-morrow, reports the Judge as saying that the intention of the meeting was to call a Convention to nominate a candidate for the Presidency.

NO MORE HALF-PRICE FARES.

At the recent convention of railway managers of the New York Central, Erie and Pennsylvania Central Railroad lines, an agreement was made to sell hereafter no passenger tickets for political meetings or State fairs at reduced rates.

AMERICUS CLUB TO BE REORGANIZED.

The Americus Club will be reorganized during the present summer, and repurchase the property sold by the sheriff on Monday. It is said the liabilities of the club, $78,000, will be liquidated by subscription.

IMMIGRATION.

Since January 1st, one hundred and forty-two thousand and fifty-one immigrants have arrived here, an increase of forty-nine thousand one hundred and ninety-one over the same period last year.

COMPOUNDING A FELONY.

Chief of Police McWilliams, of Jersey City, is on trial on a charge of compounding a felony in the recovery of bonds stolen from Messrs. Noyes' office, on Pavonia avenue, eighteen months ago.

RAILWAY ALLIANCE.

It is reported that Heath, Raphael, Bischoffsheim, Goldsmith, and Jay Gould are entering into an alliance with the intention of reinstating Gould as President of the Erie Railway.

LIBEL SUIT CONCLUDED.

The libel suit of Miss Linda Gilbert against the Evening Post of this city was concluded this evening, the jury failing to agree. It is not probable that the case will be tried again.

MOTION OVERRULED.

A motion for the acquittal of Dr. Gyles, the alleged abortionist, was overruled to-day, and the case goes to the jury.

YALE COLLEGE CHAPEL.

Prof. Thatcher, of Yale College, received donations here sufficient to complete the new chapel of the College.

ORANGEMEN'S PARADE.

The Orangemen expect, with police protection, to parade with 5,000 men on the 12th of July.

THE JUMAL CASE.

The famous Jumal case will soon be tried again.

ST. LOUIS.

Convention of Narrow Gauge Railroad Men—Meeting of Legislature.

ST. LOUIS, June 19.—A convention of narrow gauge railroad men, locomotive and car builders, and others directly or indirectly interested in the subject, convened at the Southern Hotel about noon. Between sixty and seventy delegates were present, and more are expected. Hon. Erasmus Mills, of St. Louis, is temporary chairman, and Col. H. Hurlburd, of Georgia, secretary. Various committees were appointed, when the Convention adjourned till afternoon. The delegates are principally from the South and West. There is not a broad gauge man among them.

At the afternoon session of the Narrow Gauge Convention, Erastus Wells, of St. Louis, was elected President, with a Vice President from each State represented, and L. H. Conn, of Mobile, and W. E. Richards, of Illinois, secretaries. The afternoon was entirely devoted to a discussion of the merits and demerits of narrow gauge roads, in which Edmund Wragg, of Toronto, Col. Greenwood, of Denver, E. Hurlburd, of Georgia, W. C. Faulner, of Miss., G. A. Karweesse, of Kansas city, and others participated. The discusison was very exhaustive, the main points of which will be embodied in the report of a committee appointed for that purpose.

MEETING OF LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature convened in an extra session to-day, to either redistrict the State or amend the present law so that four additional Presidential electors may be legally elected. Governor Brown sent a message recommending an amendment of the law so that the additional electors may be elected at large.

The Senate adopted a concurrent resolution to adjourn till 4 P. M. to-morrow. The House, after some discussion as to what was best to do, adjourned till 3. P. M. to-morrow.

KANSAS.

Excitement Over a County Seat.

ELDORADO, June 19.—On the 1st of June an election was held in this county to determine on a county seat, and resulted in a majority of two hundred for Augusta. The people opposed the election on the ground of illegality, and applied to court for an order restraining the commissioners from counting the vote. Yesterday about one hundred and fifty armed men, with teams, came here for the purpose of taking the county effects to Augusta by force, but the Eldorado people met these with arms, and no effort was made to carry out their design. Great excitement prevailed, and fears were entertained that there would be another raid, and possibly bloodshed. The court decided that it could not issue an injunction, and so matters rest for the present.

TRENTON.

Railway Accident.

TRENTON, N. J., June 19.—As an emigrant train from Jersey City was passing over the switches at Metuchen station this evening the express and six other cars ran off in such a manner as to obstruct both tracks. Two persons were injured—a lady having her arm severed, and a gentleman, whose leg was cut off. Considerable damage was done to the cars which ran off the track.

POLITICAL.

Indiana Republican Congressional Conventions.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 19.—The Republican Convention for the Eighth Congressional District, which met in Logansport, nominated the Hon. Jas. M. Tyner by acclamation for re-election.

The Ninth District Congressional Convention met at Muncie, Ind., yesterday. General Silas Colgrave was elected President on the first ballot. Genl. P. C. Shanks was nominated for re-election to Congress by a majority of sixty-six. The vote stood: Schanks, one hundred and four, to Robertson, thirty-eight. Senator Morton was in the city, and delivered a short address, which was greeted with thundering applause.

Louisana Republican Conventions.

BATON ROUGE, June 19.—A Grant Republican State Nominating Convention met to-day. T. T. Allain was elected Temporary Chairman. The election is regarded as a test, favoring Kellogg's nomination for Governor. A credential committee was appointed. Adjourned till 7 P. M.

The Pinchback Republican Convention reassembled here. A committee on platform was appointed, and was instructed to include a declaration against Greeley and Brown. Adjourned till 7 P. M.

An impression prevails that the Conventions will not fuse, but both nominate a State ticket, and that Kellogg will be the nominee of one, and Pinchback of the other, for Governor.

Arkansas Democratic and "Liberal" Conventions.

LITTLE ROCK, June 19.—The Democratic State Convention assembled to-day, effected a permanent organization, and adjourned to 9 o'clock to-morrow. Wm. Reynold, of Benton county, was made chairman. A Vice President for each Congressional district and the usual number of secretaries were appointed. About three hundred and fifty delegates are present. All counties are represented. Greeley and Brown will undoubtedly be endorsed.

The Liberal State Convention passed resolutions to-day reaffirming the platform of 1868, ratifying the Cincinnati platform, and calling on all good people to join them in an effort to elect the Cincinnati ticket. The Convention adjourned until 11 A. M. to-morrow.

Maryland Democratic Convention.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—The Democratic State Convention to select delegates to the National Democratic Convention assembled this morning. After the usual preliminary organization, J. T. Earle, of Queen Anne's county, was chosen permanent President. Hon. Montgomery Blair, ex-Governor Phillip Francis Thomas, ex-State Treasurer Robert W. Fowler, and A. G. W. Knott were chosen delegates at large to the National Convention. A recess was then taken till 4 P. M.

Alabama Democratic Convention.

MONTGOMERY, June 19.—The Democratic State Convention, which is the largest ever held in this State, will nominate a straight State ticket and Congressmen at large. They will leave the electoral ticket open for consultation, also subject to co-operation with the Liberal Republicans. The feeling of the Convention is for Greeley and Brown. No nomination have yet been made.

Pennsylvania Democrats to Vote for Greeley.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—It is conceded at the Democratic headquarters in this city that the Pennsylvania delegates to the Baltimore Convention will vote for Greeley.

ALBANY.

The Court of Impeachment—Railway Laborers' Strike.

ALBANY, June 19.—The Senate met as a court of impeachment this morning. The case of Judge Brindle was adjourned for one week. The Senate decided that they had jurisdiction in the case of Judge McCunn. Adjourned.

THE LABOR STRIKE.

Orders have been given that the workmen on a strike on the Central Railroad must either resume work on Friday morning or sign the pay rolls and leave their situations, to be filled by others.

A committee of the New York Central Railroad strikers visited the shops of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad Company this afternoon, and requested the men employed there to join them in the strike for eight hours. A meeting of workmen was called, and resolutions to work under the present ten hour system were carried unanimously.

TENNESSEE.

An Innocent Man Saved.

NASHVILLE, June 19.—Peter Jaster, charged with rape and the murder of Mrs. Hamach, of this county, under peculiarly atrocious circumstances, has been tried in the circuit court of Williamson, and acquitted. The trial engrossed the attention of the court for more than a week, and a verdict was rendered to-day. Jaster is a German. He was out of money, and walking from Louisville to Nashville, happened to be in the vicinity of the murder on the day it occurred. The Germans of Nashville employed able counsel, and saved an innocent man.

BALTIMORE.

Equal Rights.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—In the United States District Court yesterday, in the case of Josephine Carr, colored, against the master of the steamer Chester, for ejecting plaintiff from the after, or main, cabin to the forward cabin of the steamer, the Court decided in twenty-five dollars damages and costs. In giving his decision Judge Giles remarked that it was not in the power of common carriers in transporting passengers to make discrimination as to color.

NIAGARA FALLS.

Southern Loyalty.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 19.—At a meeting of the Southern editors to-day, now on an excursion through the North, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That in leaving Niagara, we cannot do so without giving assurances of fealty to the Union, and the determination of the people we represent to share the common prosperity with their brethren of the North.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The decline in Erie stock has caused the failure of several dealers in London.

—The steamers Deruyter, from Antwerp, and China, from Liverpool, have arrived at New York.

—The small-pox has broken out in Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa. Many students are leaving for home.

—Vessels arriving at New Orleans from the West Indies, Mexico, Central and South American ports, after July 1st., will be quarantined.

—A dispatch from Carlisle, Pa., says the small-pox excitement in Dickinson College has subsided. The class and commencement day will be celebrated as usual.

—The garment cutters in Philadelphia, to the number of four hundred and fifty, struck for eight hours. This strike, if it continues, will prove disastrous to thousands of sewing girls.

—Sixty men employed on the new branch of the Erie Railroad at Harrison, N. J., were engaged in a fight on Monday evening. A large number of rioters were injured, and five were arrested.

—The estimates of the cost of running the various departments of the Brooklyn city government for the year 1873 have been completed, and amount in the aggregate to $8,185,851, being an excess of $2,120,310 over 1872.

—Maj. F. R. Fitch, superintendent of the Atchison and Nebraska Railroad, who was so seriously injured by an accident on that road on the 8th inst., died on Wednesday evening of his injuries. He was formerly from Boston, and was considered one of the ablest and most energetic railroad managers in the west.

—A negro named John Wagner, who was stabbed on the steamer Robert Burns by another negro named James or William Reynolds, on the 29th of May, died at the Marine Hospital at Louisville on Monday. The coroner summoned a jury of negroes, the first jury of that kind that ever sat in Kentucky. Wagner's dying statement fixed the crime on Reynolds, and the jury rendered a verdict accordingly.

The Lehigh Valley.

All accounts that reach us from the Lehigh Valley report the iron manufacturing interests of that favored region in a most flourishing condition. Every furnace or rolling mill has been either enlarged or is about to be enlarged. The Thomas Iron Company will, it is said, soon add several stacks to their works at Hokendauqua. The Allentown Iron Company have one new stack nearly completed, and will build another this year, provided the prospects continue encouraging. The Allentown Rolling Mill Company, beside increasing the capacity of their works, talk about enlarging their blast furnaces to supply iron to their new rail mills. The Lehigh Iron Company, the newest in that vicinity, will have another stack completed in the latter part of the summer. The Dale Manufacturing Company is the name of a new enterprise just incorporated by the Legislature, to be located in Allentown. The capital stock will be $200,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $1,000,000, and the company will have the power to manufacture locomotives and various kinds of heavy machinery. These improvements are the best indications of substantial prosperity that could be desired, and point to a considerable increase in the already large iron production of the Lehigh District.

How the Quakers Marry.

At the Orange Street Meeting House yesterday there was a Quaker wedding in the presence of a large assemblage. The simple and beautiful ceremony of Friends is not generally known. It consists in the attendance of the bride and groom at a regular meeting for worship. After sitting in silence a short time they rise and take each other by the hand and declare that, "In presence of the Lord and these assembled, they take each other to be husband and wife, promising, with Divine assistance, to be loving and faithful to each other until death separates them." A certificate of the fact is then read before the congregation assembled, which is signed by the contracting parties and by those present as witnesses.—Philadelphia Press.

EX-JUDGE CARDOZO has resumed the practice of law—not on the bench this time though.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE new Legislature of Oregon meets in September. The election of Attorney General Williams as U. S. Senator is looked for.

GREELEY stands surrounded, as far as the Republican North is concerned, in the main by "soreheads" and blatherskites.—The Nation.

THE Chicago Times figures out that, in case there are no other Presidential candidates than Grant and Greeley in the field, Greeley would get 83, and Grant 284 electoral votes.

MR. JOHN FORSYTH, in the Mobile Register, the leading Democratic journal of the Gulf States, makes an appeal to the Democrats not to surrender principle, organization and everything else in the madness which seems to rule Greeley's adherents.

JOHN H. LITTLER stands alone in his glory as a Greeley man. He composes the Liberal Republican party in Clarke county. He will rally to the polls and cast his entire vote for Greeley. —Springfield (O.) Republican.

IT is suggested that Gilmore ought to capture Senator Schurz to execute that piano solo in which he wept out his grief over Greeley. It would be a splendid card for the Boston jubilee, especially if the sorrowing surrounders could be got together again.

GREELEY is now known as the political contortionist who can

Swallow himself, crawl through himself,
Come out with great facility;
Tie himself in a bow-knot, snap his tail,
And wink with great agility.

THE St. Paul (Minn.) Press says Horace Greeley's first efforts as a free trader were eminently successful. He traded his record, his principles, and the good opinion of mankind, for the privilege of being laughed at by the world, and of being most unmercifully beaten in November by Grant.

MAJ. A. R. CALHOUN, for many years editorially connected with the Philadelphia Post, has, since the apostacy of that paper, retired from it. He is in favor of Hartranft and Allen, and also strongly committed to Grant and Wilson, all of whom he will support on the stump during the pending campaign.

THE Michigan Republican Convention is called to meet at Lansing, Wednesday, July 31. Governor Henry P. Baldwin is named for a third term, and others mentioned are: John P. Bagley, of Detroit; Henry H. Holt, of Muskegon; Colonel F. B. Stockbridge, of Allegan; and the present Auditor General Humphrey.

THE advantage which Democrats hoped from the Cincinnati movement was, that it would split the Republican party and keep the Democratic party united. Thus far, Mr. Greeley's nomination at Cincinnati has had precisely the opposite effect. It has divided the Democratic party, and left the Republican party substantially united.—N. Y. World.

WHAT we want to know is:

Why doesn't Carl Schurz make that speech for Greeley?

Why doesn't Trumbull make that speech for Greeley?

Why doesn't Sumner take one side or the other?

Why doesn't Fenton "arraign Grant" or somebody?

Says Wm. Cullen Bryant in the New York Evening Post: "Should Horace Greeley ever be the President of the United States, we firmly believe that the corruption and the crime of an administration with a man at its head so weak in principle as he, so imbecile of character as he, so surrounded by such a crowd of adventurers and cormorants and knaves as would surround him—that the corruption and the crime of such an administration would reach proportions that would put their perpetrators beyond the cognizance of ordinary courts of law, and that would call for and compel other correction than ordinary penitentiaries can afford. Where the rebellious element and the corrupt element of the country are combined to gain possession of the government, and on a false pretence, we may prepare ourselves for any calamity that in the course of human events can possibly befall any people in their political relations with each other and the world."

JUBILEE NOTES.

TO-DAY (Thursday) is the "German day."

OLD HUNDRED was a failure—sounded spasmodic—every syllable like a separate flock.

A NOVEL feature of the festival will be the rendering of the operatic selections by a chorus comprising the best talent of the English, Italian, German and French opera companies, in costume each day. Besides all these arrays of massed talent, single stars from various countries are to delight us with their beams; Madame Pescha-Leutner, the German soprano; Herr Johann Strauss, whose waltzes one can hardly believe can gather any added power, even from his direction; Herr Franz Abt, who proposes to conduct several of those songs of his which we all know so well; Madame Arabella Goddard, greatest of all lady pianists; Madame Erminia Rudersdorff, English prima donna; Herr Franz Bendel, the eminent German pianist; our own Arbuckle, the best cornet player in America; and Wehli, whom we admire no less because we have heard him so often, all these will turn in and delight us.

NEXT came the Grand Concert Waltz, "On the Beautiful Blue Danube," performed by the Grand Orchestra, and conducted by the renowned composer and conductor, Herr Johann Strauss, of Vienna. Strauss's reception was an ovation. Perhaps the ladies felt that this was the time to express their gratitude to the poet of the ball-room and the purveyor of food for so many happy moments. The graceful Danube waltzers were led in a manner that showed that one can even be in earnest about a dance, and the orchestra seemed, to a certain extent, imbibed with a portion of the leader's fire. Making time with his feet as well as with his bow, and at times going in with his violin, Strauss, all all energy and action, seemed to be surcharged with musical electricity, but did not quite succeed in working up his orchestra to the same fine fervor, although the audience seemed both happy and grateful and insisted on an encore.

THE great feature of Tuesday was the appearance of the band of the Grenadier Guards. They first gave a medley of airs, and were warmly received. They played a waltz on the encore, and then came "God save the Queen," which brought the audience to its feet, and led to tremendous applause. The air was played by the Grenadier Guards Band with the full chorus, organ, orchestra, military band, bell and cannon accompaniment, and with fine effect. The Guards Band then played the "Star Spangled Banner," which led to the greatest demonstration yet witnessed. Hats were tossed in the air, kerchiefs were waved, and the applause continued several seconds. The reception was of the most cordial character. So many kerchiefs were waving that the auditorium and choral seats looked like a cotton field in full bloom, waving under a breeze, and there was loud shouting on the part of many enthusiasts. The Guards Band was led by Dan Godfrey, who has considerable reputation as a composer, and his management of the band was favorably criticised.

MR. DAVID BORDER, one the defenders of Baltimore in 1812, died at his home, in Cumberland Md., last Saturday. He was 89 years of age.

HON. THOMAS A. SCOTT has given $20,000 to Wilson College, at Chambersburg, Pennsylvania—an institution for the education of young women.

EX-ALDERMAN WHITTAKER, who was indicted at Chicago last fall for bribery, has been adjudged insane, and the indictment against him has been dismissed.

DANIEL O'CONNELL, son of the late John O'Connell, and grandson of the Irish political leader, was recently drowned by the sinking of his yacht while sailing near Kingstown.

SENOR Dalfin Sanches, a brother-in-law of President Juarez, of Mexico, is on his way to New York city. His business is said to be the purchase of arms for the Mexican government.

THE opinion Don Pedro, Emperor of Brazil, formed of Europe during his recent tour is laconically expressed as follows: "There are only two countries in Europe—England and Germany; the rest is rubbish."

MESSRS. Joseph R. Chandler and Edwin H. Coates have been appointed by Governor Geary to represent Pennsylvania in the International Prison Reform Congress about to be held in London. Mr. Coates sailed for England Saturday.

MLLE. SMARAGDA, the eldest daughter of Musurus Pasha the Turkish Ambassador in London, was married on the 3rd instant to Mr. Warnner Heriot, a brother to Lady Wentworth. Among the wedding presents was a valuable Indian shawl from Queen Victoria, and several from other members of the Royal Family.

OUR Roman correspondent writes:—"Reports are current in Rome that the Pope's health is failing. It is about a month since I had an opportunity of observing his Holiness, and he then had a robust and healthy appearance; in fact, it was very difficult to believe that he was about to complete his 80th year. He was somewhat corpulent, but his form was erect and his step firm, and his voice was clear and sonorous when he made a short speech in which, with a tinge of bitterness, he denounced the injustice done in this world, and adverted to the possibility that God might yet repair it. In some of his recent speeches he has used very strong language; but this may be explained by the circumstances of the time, and by a not unnatural exasperation, without its being considered to prove that his mental vigor and lucidity are on the decline, no matter what may be the state of his physical health."

BAINBRIDGE WADLEIGH, the new New Hampshire Senator, was educated in the period when the anti-slavery men of the State, under John P. Hale and his companions, were making their successful fight against the hard-shell Democracy; was an original Free-soiler, and has been a steady and honorable friend of good government ever since. Without a college education, he early acquired a thorough knowledge of his profession, and has been for years one of the best lawyers in the State, learned, honest, diligent, and apt to win his case before a jury. He has represented Milford eight years in the Legislature, and might this year have been Speaker, had he not declined the office. He gives himself to business closely, and during the session has time to go to book auctions in Boston, where he has for years been adding to his law library by frequent purchases. The other day, since the present session began, a well known Boston auctioneer, offering a choice book, which did not at once find a bidder, cried out: Where is Mr. Wadleigh, of New Hampshire? if he was here my books would not wait for a bid." In personal appearance he resembles Vice President Colfax—being rather stouter, younger, and some say handsomer—but wearing the same open and cheerful countenance.

NELLIE AND VICTORIA.

The American Girl's Visit to the Queen.

The San Francisco Chronicle has received through private resources a letter written by Miss Nellie Grant to Queen Victoria, previous to her recent visit to Windsor Palace. It's charming simplicity and thorough good sense, put beyond question all doubts as to the nature of the visit and the feeling which prompted it. It reads as follows:

LANGLEY'S HOTEL, May, 1872.

MY DEAR LADY AND QUEEN: I am embarrassed at the honor of an official request, given through a high officer (your Lord Chalmberlain, I think), to be presented to your Majesty. I should dearly love to see you, that I might tell my mother and father that I had been thus honored. I am but a simple American girl; that I am the President's daughter gives me no claim to your recognition as a sovereign. If, with the kind lady who is acting as my chaperon, I might visit you, I should be very glad. Our Secretary of Legation hints at some political significance in this opportunity. I cannot so interpret it, and would not wish so to be received, because it would not be right, as I am nothing in American politics, and I am sure my father would not desire me to appear other than as my simple and very humble self. If, with this explanation, your Majesty will allow me to visit you, I shall be greatly honored and be very proud.

I have written this note of my own motion, and because I think it the right thing to do. I am your MaJesty's very obedient servant and admirer. NELLIE GRANT.

The reply is equally refreshing, and betrays a spirit which does more honor to the British Queen than multitudes of other actions for which her subjects have loudly applauded her.

WINDSOR CASTLE.

MISS NELLIE GRANT: I have instructed Lady —— to convey to you this note, and we shall receive you as the daughter of your honored parents without the intervention of any high officers of State. I shall accept your visit as an "American girl," and there shall be no other significance in the fact than your kindly expressed desire to see the lady and not the sovereign. I shall find it pleasant to forget that I am Queen in receiving you to-morrow afternoon at our palace at Windsor. VICTORIA.

A VEXED QUESTION.

Can a Man Marry His Brother's Widow?—A Disturbing Element Among the Hebrews.

The question of the validity of a marriage between a man and the widow of his deceased brother, appears to be exciting as much feeling among the Jews of New York as that relating to the marriage of a man to the sister of his deceased wife has among the Churchmen of England. One of the points of Jewish faith now generally accepted is the prohibition of marriage between a man and the widow of his brother, whether there are children from the first marriage or not. The majority of Jews regard such marriages as illegal and worse than concubinage; yet this does not seem to deter members of that faith from contracting them, and in some cases rabbis are found who lend their sanction to these unions by performing the marriage rite. This question has excited much discussion lately, as it has been reported that a marriage of this nature is to take place in New York in a few days. The Jewish Times says that almost every rabbi in New York has been asked to officiate on the occasion, but all having refused to comply with the request, a Western rabbi has been induced to visit this city expressly to perform the ceremony. The Times denounces the action of this rabbi, and declares that if he performs the marriage it will remain in the eyes of Reformed Judaism an illegal and incestuous marriage.

His "Nepotism."

Referring to the silly charge of nepotism urged against the President, the Ogdensburg, New York, Journal remarks:

"It is a way he had before he was called to occupy the White House. Take and give has characterized his whole conduct from the beginning of the war till the present moment. He commenced at Fort Donelson, which he gave to his aunt Columbia. He gave Vicksburg to his uncle Samuel, for a birthday present; Mission Ridge to h's cousin Yankee Doodle, and Appomattox to brother Jonathan. In order to perpetuate this nepotism, he had to turn out Buckner, Pemberton, Beauregard, Bragg and Bob Lee. They all consider it an outrage, but it made no difference with Grant, for he did not stop as long as there was anything to take."

WHAT some of the "Liberal" Republicans know about Horace Greeley is set forth in the following extract from a leading article in yesterday's Evening Post:

"Should Horace Greeley ever be the President of the United States, we firmly believe that the corruption and the crime of an administration with a man at its head so weak in principle as he, so imbecile of character as he, so surrounded by such a crowd of adventurers, and cormorants, and knaves as would surround him—that the corruption and the crime of such an administration would reach proportions that would put their perpetrators beyond the cognizance of ordinary courts of law, and that would call for and compel other correction than ordinary penitentiaries can afford. Where the rebellious element and the corrupt element of the country are combined to gain possession of the Government, and on a false pretense, we may prepare ourselves for any calamity that in the course of human events can possibly befall any people in their political relations with each other and the world."

This is cheerful. Mr. Greeley's organ will easily prove that the Post has been bribed by the "usurper or his minions."

GREAT excitement prevails on the Texas frontier through fear of an Indian war.

EX U. S. SENATOR CLINGMAN, Ex-Gov. Z. B. Vance and all other noted rebels are claimed by the Tribune for Greeley. Queer.

R. W. JOHNSON, United States Senator from Arkansas, at the breakixg out of the rebellion is announced in the Tribune as favorable to the Cincinnati ticket.

GEORGE ALFRED TOWNSEND has written "a stirring campaign song for the Greeley songster," according to the Tribune. Send it along! Let us see it.

THE Tribune says, "John H. Reagan, late Confederate Postmaster-General, the only Texan suffering under political disabilities * * is strong for Greeley."

THE HASSLER expedition, of which Prof. Agassiz is part, was at last accounts exploring the Island of Juan Fernandez. They found but twelve inhabitants on the island, but discovered many scientific treasures. The expedition will next explore the coast of Peru. They have not found a Greeley Republican yet, but Patagonia is to be visited, where rare birds are known to exist.

THE World says: "A blind, unreflecting majority of the Democratic party look with favor on Mr. Greeley, but they are stumbling into the greatest mistake ever made by men;" and further, it urges "we will lose ten Democratic votes for every Republican vote gained by his endorsement." As his acceptance by the Baltimore Convention is a certainty, it cannot be said that the look-out of the opponents of General Grant is specially encouraging, if we accept as a witness the ablest and most influential opposition journal in the Union.

THE Bureau of Agriculture has just issued its summary of the crop prospect. The general report is good, a full average crop is looked for. The southwestern States will give a large yield and largely increase the number of cultivated acres. Immigration is beginning to tell on the south, and the crops under paid labor are proving eminently satisfactory. Texas and Georgia will have an extraordinary yield, whilst the entire cotton producing region is represented in fine condition. The northern States will have an average crop of grain and full crop of fruit.

THE Tribune says: "Nearly all these reporters (throughout the State of New York) concur in the assurance that, if Greeley is endorsed at Baltimore, Grant will receive more Democratic than Greeley will Republican votes." The Tribune professes to disbelieve the statements of "nearly all these reporters," and yet they write from all sections of the State, and will generally be relied on for accuracy. It begins to look as though Grant and Wilson will carry New York State by an overwhelming majority in spite of the influence of the Tribune.

THERE will be 732 delegates in the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore, two-thirds of which (488) will be necessary for a choice. Of those already appointed, more than two-thirds, it is supposed, will vote for Greeley and Brown. In some cases, as in the Pennsylvania delegation, individual members are opposed to the Philosopher, but as the delegations from each State will vote as a unit, the voices of the dissatisfied will be overslaughed. The annexed States have elected delegates who are counted on for Greeley:

[illegible]t	12	North Carolina	20
[illegible]	8	Pennsylvania	58
[illegible]	30	Rhode Island	8
[illegible]	22	South Carolina	14
Kansas	10	Tennessee	24
Maryland	16	Vermont	10
Massachusetts	26	West Virginia	10
Missouri	30	Wisconsin	20
New Hampshire	10	Maine	14
Arkansas	12
Texas	16	Total	440
New York	70

Ohio and Illinois, which hold their Conventions next week, between them elect eighty-six delegates, which will swell the Greeley vote to more than two-thirds of the Convention at the outset. Don't the Post hear the refrain buzzing in its ears, "come, sinner come; why will you stay?"

THE ENGLISH Premier, Mr. Gladstone, is to visit Ireland this fall, and will probably be accompanied by John Bright, if his health should permit. Mr. Gladstone goes to Belfast, where he will make a speech in defence of his political views, in response to an invitation extended by merchants and prominent business men. His government is not very popular in Ireland, either among Protestants or Catholics. The former are dissatisfied with the ministry for not giving its influence in favor of a law throwing open Trinity college at Dublin to all religious denominations on terms of equality. This is not a question between Protestant and Catholic, but between the established church and the dissenters. The Catholic element, which is considerably tinctured with Fenianism, censures the government for refusing to liberate the last batch of Fenian prisoners, now that Ireland is remarkably exempt from crime and political disturbances. The idea of home rule for Ireland is making great headway in that country, and against this the ministry is also committed. This seems to embrace the wisest policy yet enunciated for the pacification of the island. In brief the plan is that Ireland shall have a parliament of its own for local legislation, but will hold, otherwise, about the same relations to the British Government as the American States to the Federal Union. It is not probable Mr. Gladstone will receive a very cordial welcome in Ireland, unless it be in some parts of the north where loyalty to the throne is part of the religion of the people.

CINCINNATI is prospecting for a permanent coal supply by railroad, in order to avoid the uncertainties and variations of the river supply, in amount and price. The regions which furnish the coal are the mines of southern Indiana, accessible by the Ohio and Mississippi railroad, and the Hocking Valley coal district of Ohio, tapped by the Marietta railroad. The Ohio and Mississippi road has cars immediately available for the delivery in the city of 30,000 bushels daily, and promises to largely increase the number if guarantees are made of their full employment by Cincinnati consumers. The Gazette has these figures as to the cost of coal by the new source of supply:

The present charge for transportation is $17 per car load, of 300 bushels, and the cost of coal on board, at the mines, is 7 cents per bushel. If large contracts should be made, however, the coal would be furnished at 6 cents, and transportation 5 cents per bushel. This coal could be delivered to a large number of our manufacturers, by switching the cars, the cost of which would be only one dollar per car of 300 bushels. Pittsburgh coal is now 14 cents per bushel afloat. When we consider the difference in price (three cents per bushel, and the cost of delivery from the river, as compared with the railroad), consumers can readily see what is to be gained by developing railroad mines. The Ohio and Mississippi railroad could, in a few weeks, have five hundred cars delivering 150,000 bushels of coal daily. The Marietta road could also bring in a considerable amount of coal.

The Gazette thinks matters are now shaping for high priced coal the coming winter unless the river keeps at a coal stage this summer, which is hardly to be expected. It urges therefore, that the only way to prevent coal becoming permanently dear in the city is to encourage competition between the railroads and the river.

THE New York World with a tinge of sarcasm puts in its plan for the apportionment of cabinet officers in case Mr. Greeley should be elected. It is willing to concede the Liberal Republicans one of the least important of the President's advisers, say the Secretary of the Interior; but all the others it insists must be genuine and unadulterated Democrats, not afflicted with departing eccentricities, but staunch adherents of Bourbonism. Somebody having suggested that Mr. Greeley would make Charles Francis Adams Secretary of State, and Mr. Lyman Trumbull Attorney-General, the World emphatically dissents on the ground of their objectionable political antecedents. All this apportioning of cabinet officers is a good deal like cooking the hare before you catch it, but the abstract justice of the World's plan is affirmed by another journal, almost as vehement an opponent of General Grant. The Evening Post says:

> If Mr. Greeley is to be nominated by Democrats and elected by Democrats, he will be owned by the Democrats, and must in justice and honor pay them for their support. His few Republican adherents, who are actually smaller in number than the once famous omnibus load of Tylerites, cannot bring him an electoral vote; they will not, in fact, bring him as many popular votes as he will repulse Democratic votes; and the Republicans, therefore, will have no right to expect a share in the spoils. No! as our strikers are saying, "A fair day's wages for a fair day's work;" which will mean, under the system of civil service reform that we are promised, a general distribution of all the offices at the disposal of the President to the generous men who make the President.

No wonder, in the face of such givings out as these, the leading Greeley organ of the northwest, the Chicago Tribune, vehemently calls on the liberal Republicans to make haste to the front, as their only chance of securing indemity for the past and security for the future.

THE difficulties in the public schools of Brooklyn and Long Island City, in regard to reading the Bible as part of the school exercises, about which so much has been printed during the past six months, have been terminated by a decision of the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State. The local boards of education adopted regulations requiring all pupils to be present, under pain of expulsion from the schools, at the opening exercises each morning when the Bible reading took place. A number of pupils were expelled from the schools for a refusal to comply. An appeal was taken to the State Superintendent at Albany and he has just rendered his decision. The pith of it is contained in the annexed paragraph:

> "The object of the common school system of this State is to afford means of secular instruction to all children over 5 and under 21 years of age resident therein. There is no authority in the law to use as a matter of right any portion of the regular school hours in conducting any religious exercises at which the attendance of the scholars is made compulsory. On the other hand, there is nothing to prevent the reading of the Scriptures or the performance of other religious exercises by the teacher in the presence of such of the scholars as may attend voluntarily, or by the direction of their parents or guardians, if it be done before the hour fixed for the opening of the school or after the dismissal of the school."

This will strike most persons as a skillful attempt on the part of the Superintendent to carry water on both shoulders. The action of the local boards, the State official concludes, "in directing the reading of a portion of the Bible as an opening exercise in the schools under their charge during school hours, and in excluding pupils from those schools, or any of them, on the ground of declining to be present at such reading, has been without warrant of law." He therefore directs the readmission of the pupils so excluded to the schools on the same footing as other pupils. The Superintendent states for the benefit of those dissatisfied with his decision, and who desire more explicit regulations on the subject that their remedy lies in an appeal to the Legislature for an enactment that will meet their views.

AMENDE.

The present writing editor of our Virgin alley cotemporary—(it changes editors about as often as the moon changes)—not Mr. Barr, nor Mr. Lare, nor Mr. Schoyer, nor Mr. Myers, but one whom we have heretofore recognized under his familiar and voluntarily selected title of "Old Mortality," otherwise known as A. W. Foster, Esq., called yesterday at our sanctum to deny that he had placed ropes upon the lamp-posts of Pittsburgh in 1861, for the purpose of hanging traitors or their sympathizers, as charged by the GAZETTE. We can only say, at this time, that our authority for the statement is not now in the city, is a former "editor" of the Post (we believe) and upon his return we shall interview him, and give our readers the result. If he retracts the statement or is in doubt of its correctness, we shall say so; if he affirms its truth, we shall let that be known also. We only mention the matter at this time, in order to let our old friend know that we have not forgotten him, but must await the return of our informant to the city, before we can place him right upon the record.

It is well known, however, that "Old Mortality" was "once upon a time" a "Black Republican," according to the Post, of the "blackest dye," and the lamp-post story is not at all an unnatural one, as his Republicanism was particularly noticeable at the period mentioned, viz., 1861. What has since caused him to change, we do not know, nor do we care, but we did think it hard on him, just as he was getting nicely warmed in his Democratic seat, to be obliged to turn tail again and support Horace Greeley, whom he had forever foresworn. But, as our old friend will be a candidate before the next Democratic County Convention, we are sorry if we have, in the slightest degree, hurt his chances before the "unwashed;" indeed we are. It would be creditable in them to nominate him. He is capable, honest and worthy, particularly so now that he has denied the lamp-post story. We shall not refer, at this time, to the necessity of those persons who live in glass houses refraining from stone-throwing.

POSTAL REFORM.

Under the administration of General Grant progress has been made in one direction and reforms initiated, of far more importance to the convenience of the great mass of the people than all the theories of all the civil service babblers in the universe. We refer to the practical improvements in the postal service of the country; improvements which not only promote the prompt and safe transaction of business, but reach the humblest member of society with their beneficent influence. Not only has there been a constant increase in the speed and regularity of mail communication, but the rates of postage have been reduced as fast as the receipts of the department would permit, mail routes extended both in this country and to foreign nations, and all conveniences sanctioned by experience abroad adopted.

The money order system is a notable instance of this. On the first of July next, so rapidly has it been extended, there will be 3,000 money order post offices in the United States. The business of these offices last year amounted to over $42,000,000, and it is believed there will be an increase of fifty per cent. for the current year. It is a great convenience and saving to the people, and especially to that large class, outside of business and financial circles, who once or twice a year may have occasion to send remittances by the mails. An extension of the system to Great Britain, Germany and France, will very likely be witnessed before the lapse of another year, and prove of immense advantage to our foreign population.

Under the new postal code passed at the last session of Congress, open circulars composed entirely of printed matter, and transient newspapers, may be transmitted through the mails for one cent postage. As business men do a large proportion of their advertising by circular, this reduction will be of interest to them. The official circular of the department sets forth the reduced rates, now in force, as follows:

> On all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, magazines, handbills, posters, unsealed circulars, prospectuses, book manuscripts, proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets, (passing between author and publisher), flexible patterns, sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes and wrappers, cards, plain and ornamental paper, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, and scions, a postage of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof on packages to one address, to be prepaid by postage stamps affixed.
> On all books (other than those printed by order of Congress), postage at two cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof, limited to four pounds in weight.
>
> On samples of merchandise, metals, ores, and mineralogical specimens, two cents for each two ounces or fraction thereof, packages limited to twelve ounces in weight.

The provision made in the new postal code for postal cards to be furnished for local correspondence, has already been described in our columns. This novel feature has been very successful in England. The Postoffice Department in about a month will be prepared to furnish these postal cards at the rate of one cent each, including postage. They will supercede in most cases the use of drop letters.

The one great reform in the Postoffice Department that is now most needed, the abolition of the franking privilege, we are approaching slowly but surely. The House of Representatives has twice passed a law abolishing the transmission of free matter in the mails, but it has failed in the Senate. When Congress meets next winter the Senate will find on its table a bill of this kind, that passed the House at the close of the last session. We hope it will become a law, and thus hasten the day, anxiously waited for by the friends of postal reform, when the department will be justified in applying the principle of penny postage to all written communications of the regulation weight, passing through the mails. That can soon be done, if the franking privilege is abolished, and no scrap of paper, official or non-official, carried without bearing its just share of the expense.

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

THE Philadelphia Age must sometimes tell the truth, as it does in saying "The Greeley balloon, after rising swiftly to a great height, as balloons do, is now plainly to be seen descending again, through the exhaustion of the gas with which it was inflated."

WE enjoyed a brief visit yesterday from Alexander D. Stowell, Esq., editor of the Grand Haven Herald, one of the leading daily and weekly papers in Michigan. Mr. Stowell reports the crops of all kinds in his section highly flourishing, save the Greeley crop, which will be a total failure, as the returns show that there is not one Greeleyite in his dictrict.

WE could'nt have Strauss, or any of the foreign bands, or distinguished solo artists from the Boston Jubilee, even if we wanted them because Gilmore by special contract, has engaged them exclusively for the Jubilee and they cannot appear professionally anywhere else in the country. They say the expenses of the Royal Band from Vienna, will aggregate $50,000.

CROP reports sometimes tell strangely different tales. The other day the Missouri Democrat's farmer correspondents united in a wail over the prospect, but accounts from other quarters give the rosiest picture of abundance—plenty of fruit, an abundance of cereals, and a fine outlook generally. The weight of testimony seems to be largely in favor of a bountiful harvest.

THE appropriations made by Congress during the last fiscal year amount to $168,293,564, distributed as follows: Pensions, $30,480,000; post-office, $28,600,292; army, $28,560,615; sundry civil appropriations, $19,528,524; legislative and executive, $18,587,916; navy, $18,296,734; Indians, $6,349,462; deficiencies, $6,029,760; rivers and harbors, $5,276,700; consular and diplomatic, $1,219,659, and military academy, $326,101.

SCHURZ is in trouble; he wants to be drawn out of "that crowd." He has had enough of it. "Is this a free fight?" anxiously inquired a bellicose stranger as he took off his coat; if it is, count me in." And he went in for a few moments, until a broken nose, bunged eye and swollen jaw told of the fierceness of the row. Recovering consciousness, he again inquired, "Is this a free fight?" "It is," was the reply. "Well, then," said he decidedly, "count me out."

IN the World's Fair just opened in Vienna, there is a department for children, to which special attention has been given. The President of the exhibition has written to this country for circulars, books, means of primary instruction, and all the appliances used to develop the peculiar genius of American youth. He wants all the toys, school books and paraphernalia that influence the moral and physical education, and offers to pay liberally for information and implements that will make the child's department a success.

THE Cincinnati Commercial fears a coal famine again next winter and in proposing a plan to prevent it, says: "If all our public institutions, and the housekeepers who can afford it, and the manufacturers who have capital and can secure storage, will lay in an ample stock of coal, during the spring rains, so that they will not be in competition with the poor when winter comes, there will be no fuel famine. It is not the part of the city government to enter into the coal business, in behalf of the people."

THE Philadelphia Press pays its compliments to the "Luminary," in this wise:

"That other 'reform' journal published at Pittsburgh which has been bolting good and bad nominations alike for the last four or five years, is now reconciled to all the "rings" in the State and the worst of them the 'Treasury ring,' the head centre of which is a distinguished Pittsburgh citizen. But we think the Commercial, which is preparing to bolt a local nomination, and which has in times past opposed (conscientiously, we believe) the rings of Allegheny county, might allow us the privilege it has heretofore insisted on exercising."

MONONGAHELA VALLEY.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

MORGANTOWN, WEST VA.,
June 17, 1872.

The dilemma in which the Democratic party are placed is amusing, to say the least of it. Like ship-wrecked mariners, struggling in the tempest-tossed ocean, they clutch at every possible means to rescue themselves. Some have mounted the Greeley plank, but the Tribune philosopher is too bitter a pill for the great mass of the party to swallow. They have not forgotten his unqualified denunciations of them in days gone-bye, and the comparatively few that advocate the endorsement of Greeley at Baltimore, are prompted by no love or respect for him, but hope it may be the means of defeating General Grant. Nearly every prominent Democratic journal in the country is opposed to Greeley, and but few Republicans "are so poor as to do him reverance." The leaders of the liberal movement, and their allies of the Democratic party, fondly hoped that Greeley had sufficient influence to secure a large vote from the Republicans, which united with that of the Democracy, would result in his election. The prevailing sentiment among the people of this portion of Virginia is that he has little strength in the Republican ranks, and the Democracy consider him a huge elephant upon their hands.

An intelligent Democrat remarked to me a few days since that Grant had the inside track, and as the great mass of the party were favorably disposed towards him; and over fifty thousand office holders with their powerful influence at work, together with the fact that there were thousands of men in the country with no fixed political principles that identified themselves with whichever party was most likely to win, Grant's election was almost a foregone conclusion. I heard the editor of the Democratic paper here say last evening, that he would not support Greeley under any consideration whatever. If Greeley should be endorsed at Baltimore, I believe that Grant will get at least three Democratic votes to one for Greeley. I base this assertion upon what I have learned in travelling through the Monongahela Valley and other portions of the country.

My last letter to the GAZETTE was from Fayette City. I find that vegetation of all kinds is looking better than in that region: the wheat crop was partially frozen out in some places last winter, but the recent rains, followed by warm weather has made a gratifying improvement and at least half the usual yield may be expected; corn, oats, rye, &c., are looking splendid and promise an abundant harvest.

Morgantown is one of the most interesting and attractive places I have visited. The surrounding scenery is equal in many respects to the finest landscapes on the Hudson river, and for picturesque variety I have never seen any thing in my extended travels to surpass it. The Monongahela is not so large here as at Pittsburgh, but more beautiful, as the water is clear and the banks are covered with luxuriant grass, which extends to the water's edge. The scene, as presented from the fine suspension bridge or the college hill, is truly magnificent. The river can be seen for miles, winding its glittering course among the distant hills and verdant meadows, and the towering mountains not far distant fill up the back ground of this most charming picture of nature's handy-work. Mr. G. P. Shafer, a superior photographic artist of this place, has taken some admirably executed views of the town, public buildings, suspension bridge, &c. He kindly presented your correspondent with the views alluded to, and they are very highly appreciated. I cannot pay Mr. Shafer a higher compliment than to say that he is fully the equal, as an artist, of our well-known photographers at Pittsburgh. This place is noted for its intelligent and refined society, also for its educational facilities. The University of West Virginia is in a very flourishing condition, and has one of the most beautiful and commodious buildings in the country. The closing exercises of the session are now in progress. In addition to the university, there is a well conducted ladies' seminary and an academy for boys. The readers of the GAZETTE cannot find a more delightful summer resort than Morgantown. More anon. D. R. S.

RAILROAD NEWS.

A LETTER from Wm. Keyser, Vice President of the Baltimore and Ohio Road, to a committee of Tiffin gentlemen, says:

"The line of the Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Chicago Railroad Company having been definitely located from the Lake Erie Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the western boundary of Ohio, the Company is now ready to advertise for bids and let all the work on that section of the line, and will do so as soon as the arrangements made between the Company and the citizens of Tiffin and Defiance are satisfactorily consummated. By those arrangements a clear, free and unincumbered right of way is to be secured and granted to the Company from the Lake Erie Division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the western line of the State, together with ample facilities and grounds for freight and passenger depots, and necessary side tracks in Tiffin and Defiance." The Tiffin Tribune says the Company intends having the road running to Toledo this fall from the Lake Erie Division, and that it will be completed to Alma, Henry county, on the Dayton and Michigan Road, and run over that to Toledo. As showing the efficiency with which the enterprise is being prosecuted, it is stated that the Balmore and Ohio Railroad had negotiated a loan of £2,000,000 sterling for the work, and was only waiting for the right of way furnished free, when the work would commence.

THE number of miles of railroad now constructed in the United States is nearly 65,000. Of this, there are in Illinois 6000 miles, Pennsylvania 5300, New York 4500, Ohio 4000, Indiana 3800, Iowa 3400, Missouri 3000, Michigan 2300, Georgia 2000, Wisconsin 2000, Kansas 1900. Then comes Massachusetts, Virginia, Alabama, Tennessee, and Minnesota, about 1600 each, while the rest of the States and Territories have each 1200 or 1000 miles and less. A peculiar and significant fact is that in the year 1871 alone, nearly 7000 miles of new road was constructed, a number surpassing that of all the miles of railroad existing in the whole of the United States only twenty-three years ago, when their sum total was nearly 6000 miles. To keep these roads in repair requires 400,000 tons of rail per year, of which three parts are re-rolled rail, and 100,000 tons new iron; but as there are yearly some 7000 miles of new road made, it requires over 1,000,000 tons of new rail; in fact, we are short of iron, as the demand for this iron exceeds the production.

THE new line to be constructed by the Dominion of Canada, is to be called the Canadian Pacific Railway; its estimated length is 2,700 miles, and its starting point on the Atlantic side will be near Lake Nipissing (in Upper Canada), to some point on the Pacific Ocean." The gauge is to be four feet eight and a half inches. The railroad is to be constructed by a private company, whose head offices shall be in the city of Ottawa, and this company must have at least $10,000,000 of subscribed capital, one of which will have to be deposited in the public treasury of Canada as caution money. The total of land to be granted is not to exceed 50,000,000 acres, and the money subsidy is to be limited to $30,000,000, which sum the Dominion Government will be empowered to raise on loan. The road, according to contract, must be completed by the 20th of July, 1882.

THE experiments of narrow gauge railroads from the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad at Barton to mines of the Potomac Coal Company and the Barton Coal Company have proved a perfect success for a number of years past. These roads are in daily use, transporting considerable quantities of coal from the mines to the dump house at the Cumberland and Pennsylvenia road, a distance of nearly two miles. The economy of working the roads and the benefits secured have demonstrated their efficiency.

THE annual Convention of the master mechanics held last week in Boston was very largely attended. Aside from the importance of the business transacted—the session was remarkable for a harmony of sentiment and for the social enjoyment incidental.

A NARROW guage road is to be built by the Keystone Coal Company, in Somerset county, from their mines to connect with the Connellsville Railroad near Meyers' Mills. The road will be completed in a few months.

Gen. Grant's Principles.

The following extracts from the published correspondence of General Grant explain the principles which guide him in conducting the affairs of the nation.

I care nothing for promotion, so long as our arms are successful.—Grant to Sherman, February, 1862.

If my course is not satisfactory, remove me at once. I do not wish in any way, to impede the success of our arms.—Grant to Halleck, February, 6, 1862.

No theory of my own will ever stand in the way of executing in good faith any order I may receive from those in authority over me.—Grant to Secretary Chase, May, 29, 1865.

This is a Republic where the will of the people is the law of the land.—Grant's Letter to President Johnson, August, 1867.

I shall have no policy of my own to interpose against the will of the people.—Grant's Letter, May 28, 1868.

Human liberty is the only true foundation of human government.—Grant's letter to the citizens of Memphis.

Let us have peace.—Grant's letter, May 29, 1868.

FROM present appearances it is doubtful if the mode of travel from North to South via Washington and the Potomac route will be changed for a while at least, as, although the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company have now an uninterrupted line of rail from Baltimore through Maryland and this district, and thence over the new long bridge through Virginia as far as the northern terminus of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Road, there seems to be a hitch, which it is hoped will be only temporary, in the arrangement of a "ticket" between the managers of the two railroad corporations. Negotiations for that purpose, which have been in progress in Baltimore for the past week or ten days, have, according to present advices, failed, each side declining the terms of the other. The owners of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, we learn, have the privilege of purchasing the present road, complete from Quantico Creek on the Potomac to Richmond for four million five hundred thousand dollars cash, and may probably avail themselves of the offer. In the meanwhile, engineers of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are surveying a route for a road which will tap the Washington branch outside the district limits, and proceed along the eastern banks of the Anacostia and Potomac rivers to a point opposite Alexandria, and there connect by means of swift steamers with the present Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad.—Washington Sunday Herald.

Sickness of Forty Years' Duration Cured.

The cure related below is one of a very remarkable kind, on account of its long duration, and is well worthy of the attention of all those who may be afflicted with chronic disease of any kind, showing clearly that all such cases can be cured. It is that of Jacob Wagner, a respectable farmer, aged 63 years, of New Sewickley township, who has been in gradually failing health for a period of about forty years. The disease manifested itself by a continued cough and a wasting state of health, which, about the beginning of last October, culminated in an attack which showed that the lungs were becoming seriously affected. Mr. Wagner, in this state of his case, applied to Dr. Keyser, of this city, who, by a system of medicine of a restorative kind, has completely cured him and restored him to a state of health to which he has been a stranger for many long and weary years. His cure is thorough and complete, and evinces an amount of skill and perseverance in the treatment of such cases, by Dr. Keyser, which is rarely if ever attained in a life time. The cure was chiefly effected by Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure, and is another of the many instances of the wonderful restorative power of that medicine in the cure of every disease of long standing, especially those in which the pulmonary organs and the blood are deteriorated.

Dr. Keyser's office is at 167 Liberty street, in the rear of his Drug Store, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 until 6 P. M., and on Saturday's at night.

A treatise on Lung Diseases sent wherever it is wanted.

WHAT THE WEAK NEED.

Why do the debilitated and feeble dread the summer? It is because heat is an exhausting element, and they are not in a condition to bear the new drain upon their languid systems, which they think must necessarily commence with the warm weather. But cannot this evil be obviated? Most indubitably it can. What these weaklings need—in fact, what nine-tenths of us need at this season—is an accession of physical vigor, and this desideratum can be secured, with absolute certainty, by a course of the mightiest, yet mildest, of all vegetable tonics, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Thousands of men of business, mechanics, professional men, break down, partially or wholly, under their summer labors, simply because they have neglected to reinforce the powers of nature in this way. To persons who use the celebrated invigorant and corrective regularly in hot weather, the exhaustion which excessive heat is apt to produce under other circumstances is unknown. They are not troubled with nausea, their appetites are good, their digestion excellent, and their habit of body all that can be desired. This for twenty years has been the uniform testimony of all who have taken the Bitters as a summer tonic and alterative. Its efficacy is due to the care and scrupulous teachings of experimental science, with which its medicinal ingredients have been culled from the vegetable kingdom, the admirable proportions in which they are combined and the unequaled purity of its stimulative basis.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1872.

The channel in local money matters continues to maintain the course that it has been holding for the past three weeks. The heat of the summer, becoming more oppressive, is having the same effect on capitalists that a lighted match has on shooting crackers. It makes them go off and they are rapidly betaking themselves to the summer resorts. Before going, they endeavor to place their money so that it will be earning something while they are recreating. This has a tendency to make the volume of loanable funds greater than it would otherwise be.

The business of the city shows no diminution, and the merchants report trade as keeping up much better than they expected. The imports into New York last week amounted to $8,523,534; for the present year to date $210,918,985—being an increase over the same time last year of $32,069,867—equal to the whole product of precious metals in the United States. The manufacturers would do well to give this subject more attention, and try to secure men of sufficient ability to cope with those who war against their interests. This paper has always called the attention of its readers to the importance of looking out that they be properly guarded from the machinations and intrigue of those who would destroy them, by low duties on foreign imports, if it was in their power to do so. The glass men are making arrangements to go out of blast, and it is presumed that it will take them about six weeks to repair and get fairly under way again. They generally stop this length of time every summer. This gives their hands a breathing spell, and enables them to go to the country to recuperate, so as to be able the better to stand the fatigues of the balance of the year.

Money in the eastern and western cities shows no signs of scarcity, and from now on until the first of October the same story will have to be repeated in regard to it.

NEW YORK, June 19, 1872.

Money easy at 3@4. Gold dull and heavy at 113⅝@113¾. Loans 1@4 per cent for carrying. Clearings $32,000,000. Exports to-day $300,000. Treasury disbursements $132,000. Governments quiet and ⅛@⅜c lower. The Treasury bought only $921,900 of $3,000,000 offered, at 113.55 to 113.62-100. State bonds dull and steady. Stocks active and higher. Erie sold up from 51 to 55⅛, closing at 55; Canton to par; Quicksilver to 40; with a general advance of near one per cent. throughout the list. The market closed strong with an advancing tendency. A Washington dispatch says of the three calls of 5-20s for redemption, there remain outstanding eight millions. It is rumored that the famous bargain of Daniel Drew to sell 50,000 shares of Erie at 55, deliverable at any time to December 31, has been compromised, and the money withdrawn from trust. A German house made large purchases of Erie. It is rumored that General McClellan, S. L. M. Barlow, Wm. B. Duncan, Samuel D. Babcock, Watts Sherman, Charles Lansing, Gibson and Cowan, and E. H. Green are likely to enter the new direction, and the first named be President, and a close running arrangement will be made with the Atlantic and Great Western, and possibly the lease of the latter to the Erie. Other reports mention Blackstone, of the Chicago & Alton, and Jay, of the Michigan Central, for the Erie Presidency, but the first statement is generally believed. It is reported that the Canal Commissioners of this State decided to pay the bonds due in July.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1872.

ASHES—Common Soda Ash, 4¾@5c; Refined, 5¾@6c; Nitrate Soda, 5c; Pots, 10c; Pearls, 11c.

APPLE BUTTER—Sales, in a jobbing way, at 65 to 70 per gallon for fair to prime, and 75 for choice.

BUTTER—There is rather more inquiry but the supply is equal to the demand and prices are unchanged; we continue to quote at 10 to 15 cts, as to quality and condition.

BROOM CORN—Is still quoted at 5 to 8 cts per lb. and dull.

BEANS—Sales, in a jobbing way, at $2,75 to $3,25 per bushel, as to quality.

CHEESE—The arrivals for some days past have been comparatively light, but with a continued fair jobbing trade prices are maintained. Dairy 11 to 12; Factory 12½ to 13; Goshen 13½ to 14.

CONCENTRATED LYE—Sales of Penn'a. at $5,50 per case.

CANNED GOODS—Almost out of season; we continue to quote Peaches at $6 to $6,50 per case; Tomatoes $4,50 to $5, and Corn at $6 to $6,50.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 4 to 5; clear sides, 6 to 6½; hams; 8 to 10. Country Lard, 7 to 8 cents.

CARBON OIL—Very dull, but there is no change in quotations; 19½ to 20 cts for 25 or 50 bbl lots, and 2@3 cts additional in a smaller way.

CEMENT—Louisville Cement, $2,50 to $2,75 per bbl; Calcined Plaster, $4 to $4,50; Land Plaster, $3,25 to $3,50; Cleveland Lime, $2; Eastern Lime, $1,75.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches, 8½ to 9 for halves, 7½ to 8 for mixed, and 6 to 7 for quarters. Apples, 9 to 11 cts, as to quality. Blackberries, 13 to 15; pitted Cherries, 25 to 27 cts; unpitted, 6 to 8 cts.

EGGS—Continue weak, and we now quote at 15 cts. For some time past this has been the best market for eggs in the country, and notwithstanding there has been a decline of 2@3 cts within the past few days, prices are still higher relatively than in the east.

FLOUR—The outlook is decidedly "bearish," the advices from all points, not only in this country but Europe also, pointing strongly to a lower range of prices. New York, Chicago, and Cincinnati are all reported weak and drooping, and the tenor of the dispatches from Liverpool are of a similar character. As yet there is no quotable decline in our market, but according to the indications at this writing it cannot hold out much longer. We continue to quote at $8,75 to $9,25 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $9,50@10 for red winter. Rye flour $9,75@10.

GRAIN—The grain markets continue very dull and weak, and the advices from the East and West, together with the fact that the local demand is very meagre, are not favorable for holders. Wheat, notwithstanding there is little or none offering, is dull, and it is impossible to give quotations; the mills are still reported as being pretty well stocked, and, notwithstanding the feeling is generally entertained that the yield of winter Wheat will be considerably below an average, the indications, at this writing, point unmistakably to a lower range of prices. There was a decline of 6 to 8 cts at Chicago, on Tuesday, and Cincinnati, Cleveland, in fact all leading markets, including New York and Liverpool, are offish. The Oats "corner" in Chicago was smashed yesterday, and No. 2 dropped from 41 to 31, 10 cts per bushel; what effect this will have on our market, remains to be developed. At present it is difficult to give quotations. Shelled Corn is dull but unchanged, 63 on track, and 65 free in elevator. Ear Corn is dull; last sales reported at 60 to 62. Rye is quiet and unchanged; $1 to $105.

GROCERIES—The eastern market is reported ¼c up to-day on prime Brazil goods, with no anxious sellers appearing. Holders of stocks here are firmer in their views, and in some houses an advance is asked. We look for high prices after July 1st. Sugars continue strong and the tendency is still upward for refined. Hards scarce in all markets. Syrups higher. The strikers in the New York refineries are still holding out, with no prospect of a compromise. Should the strike continue two weeks longer, it will put refined sugars and syrups at least 10 per cent. higher than to-day's figures.

REFINED SUGARS.—Standard; Hards, 13½; A Coffee, 12½; B, 12¾; Ex C, 12¼ C Yellow and Circle C, 12½.

COFFEE.—Rio—Choice, 27@27½; Prime, 26@26½; Good, 25½; Fair, 25. Roasted, pure, 29@30; lower grades, 27@28.

RAW SUGARS.—Choice New Orleans, 11@11¼; Prime, 10⅝; Good, 10; Fair, 9½. Choice Porto Rico, 10¾; Prime, 10¼. Demerara—Choice, 11¾; Good, 11¼.

NEW ORLEANS MOLASSES.—Choice, 80; Prime, 75; Good, 70; Fair, 65.

SYRUPS.—Fancy White Drips, 65; White Honey, 60; Havemeyer & Elder's, 53@55; other grades, from 40@50.

RICE.—Carolina—Choice, 9½; Prime, 9¼; Good, 9. Rangoon, 8@8¼. Patna, 8¼@9.

SPICES.—Grain Pepper, 24; do Pimento, 16; Cassia, 50; Cloves, 25; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY—As noted in our last report, is firmer, in consequence of diminished receipts, but there is no quotable change to note in prices; $23 to $28 per ton, according to quality.

HEMP—Kentucky rough at $130 per ton.

POTATOES—Old stock may be quoted, in a jobbing way, at 40 to 50 cts per bushel; market continues dull, and it is difficult to find buyers for round lots.

POULTRY—Live Chickens may be quoted at 75 to 85 cts per pair, by the coop.

PROVISIONS—Plain shoulders, 6cts; sugar cured do, 8cts; ribbed sides, 8 cts; clear rib, 8½cts; clear, 9 cts. Breakfast Bacon, 10½@11cts; plain sugar cured hams, 12¼; do, canvased, 12¼. Lard; in tierces, 9¾; in kegs, 10¾; in buckets, 11¼. Mess Pork, 14¼. Dried Beef, 17¼. Ham sausage, 10.

RAGS—Sales at 4@4¼cts per lb.

SALT—Quoted at $1,85 per barrel by the car load, and $2 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Flax Seed may be quoted at $1,95 to $2 per bushel, and receipts continue very small.

TALLOW—Rendered 7½ to 8 cts.

WILLOWS—Offerings light; sales in a small way at 10 cts.

WHISKY—Highwines may be quoted, in jobbing way, at 89 to 90 cts.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1872.

CATTLE.

The arrivals thus far this week have been liberal, but common in point of quality; however, with a full attendance of buyers and a full average demand, trade is active and the sales were again large; and while the lower grades are lower, in consequence of an over supply of this kind, prime cattle are selling readily at about last week's prices. We understand that there has been a comparatively light supply of the better grades, in the Eastern markets for some weeks past and this, of course, is not without its effect here; and this accounts for the fact, that while common and medium cattle are lower, the better grades are bringing full prices. There was one drove of very fine Southern Ohio steers, averaging 1,400 to 1,450 lbs., sold at $7,40 off the cars, considered equal to about $7,25 after being fed and watered; and the same party, Mr. C. K. Ward, sold a drove of the same pens at 7¼ last week. Including the offerings, were a number of Texans, and as might be expected, they sold at a variety of prices; one very good drove brought 5¾, considered a big price for this kind of stock. Green slippery stock, of which the supply consisted largely, may be quoted at 5 to 6 cts, according to quality. Stock cattle very dull, and prices are lower; and it is attributed to the fact, that owing to the drouth, pasture is very poor in the eastern part of the State, where a large number of cattle are grazed every summer. Quotations may be fairly given to-day at 6¾ to 7 cts. for prime 1,300 to 1,350 steers, and 6 to 6½ for good 1,100 to 1,200.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The market for this class of stock, to use a common phrase, has got a very black eye, but hopes of an early recovery are entertained. The arrivals are only fair, and, so far as we could learn, the supply in the pens to-day was not as large as on the corresponding day last week, but it must be borne in mind that there is a material falling off in the demand; eastern men claim that the eastern markets are considerably demoralized, and that there has been little money in the business recently, and this accounts for the stagnation that is prevailing here and the sharp decline in prices. The great proportion of the offerings this week were very common in quality, and while the market, as already noted, is hard for all kinds, the better grades sell more readily and at relatively better prices. Up until noon to-day their had been no sales above $5,50, but at the same time, extra fine wool Ohio and Pennsylvania sheep may be quoted at 5½ to 6 cts, against 6¼@6½ last week. Lambs in good supply and mostly very common, for which kind there is very little inquiry, and the market is very dull; we now quote as 6 to 7 cts per lb.—a decline of a full cent as compared with this day week.

Following embraces most of the sales during the past three days:

HOGS.

The market opened up a shade better on Monday, and on Tuesday prices were 15 to 20 cts per cent. higher, but to-day, owing to the hot weather and increased receipts, the market was scarcely as strong, though there was no quotable decline. Prime Philadelphias may be quoted at $4,40 to $4,50; and Yorkers at $4,10 to 4,25.

Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, June 19.—Flour flat and quiet. Wheat; business small; red $2,00. Rye 94½c. Corn dull; yellow 67@68c. Oats quiet and weak; 49@50c. Barley unchanged. Provisions firm; business small. Crude petroleum 17½c. Whisky 92c.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1872.

Trade continues very quiet, and, in a general way, the market presents but little that is really new or important. Crude is firmer and higher, while refined is weak and a shade lower. The advance in the former, at Parker, is in consequence of New Yorkers buying at that point, as prices are lower here than on the creek; sales were made to-day at $3,90. Refined quoted at 22⅝ for June, with sales for last half of July at 22¾. Oil barrels were in fair supply and arriving freely, but prices are unchanged at $1,80 to $1,85 for city, and $1,70 to $1,75 for country.

JOB MOSES' SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS.—These invaluable Pills are unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. They moderate all excesses and remove all obstructions from whatever cause. To MARRIED LADIES they are particularly suited. They will in a short time bring on regularity, and although very powerful, contain nothing hurtful to the constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, they will effect a cure when all other means have failed. The circulars around each package give full directions and advice, or will be sent free to all writing for them, sealed from observation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—It is the fate of every valuable medicine to be COUNTERFEITED. Job Moses' Sir James Clarke's Female Pills are extensively COUNTERFEITED. The genuine have the name of "JOB MOSES" on each package. All others are worthless. Dishonest Druggists endeavor to sell the counterfeits to make greater profit.

N. B.—In all cases where the GENUINE cannot be obtained, One Dollar enclosed to the Sole Proprietor, JOB MOSES, 18 Cortland street, New York, will insure a bottle of the genuine, containing Fifty Pills, by return mail, SECURELY SEALED from any knowledge of its contents.

DR. A. SLEE, No. 264 PENN STREET.—Longer in the practice of Special and Chronic Diseases than any physician in the city so advertising. All forms of venereal diseases cured in the most thorough and satisfactory manner; spermatorrhea or nervous debility, producing blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, noises in the head, indigestion, despondency, confusion of ideas, loss of memory, and which unfit the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing consumption and insanity, are permanently cured.

Long standing constitutional diseases skillfully treated, and the effects of mercury completely eradicated.

The Doctor gives particular attention to female complaints, Sterility, Amenorrhea, Menorrhea, Dysmenorrhea, and all irregularities giving annoyance and trouble. A medical pamphlet is published in regards all these, and all the diseases to which women are subject, on venereal diseases sent by mail for two stamps. Correspondence strictly confidential. Hours—9 A. M. to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. Pittsburgh Medical Institute, 276 Penn street.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with three feet ten inches in the channel last evening. Weather clear and warm. Business dull.

The Carrie Brooks, from Wheeling, arrived and departed as usual, with a fair trip each way.

The Juniata was due from Cincinnati last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning. As will be seen by card, she will return again this afternoon.

The Rover departed for Huntingdon last evening with three barges of railroad iron.

The Collier passed Wheeling all right yesterday forenoon. It is hoped that she will meet with no more mishaps.

The Ironsides will leave the Superior Mills for St. Louis this morning, with 700 tons of railroad iron.

The Wild Duck departed yesterday with one of her barges; after dropping down over the bad places, she will leave it and return for the other. This is what the Collier should have done.

The Carrie Brooks reports having met the Lucy Bertram, on Tuesday night, all right.

The West Virginia, Capt Donaldson, is the regular independent packet for Geneva to-day, leaving promptly at 3 P. M.

The Mary Alice arrived with a tow of five barges of iron ore.

The Messenger and Wild Duck will lay by and wait for more water.

The Ouachita Belle has taken the place of the Robert E. Lee in the New Orleans and Vicksburg trade for one month, when the latter steamer will resume her regular trips. The Ouachita Belle will then relieve the Frank Pargould in order that she may be put in apple-pie order for the fall business of the bend's trade.

The St. Louis Democrat, of 15th, says: The Great Republic left here Sunday night at half-past eight o'clock, and arrived at Cairo yesterday at twelve P. M. She left this port loaded flat, or with about 2,000 tons of freight, making the run in sixteen hours. We have no record before us to show aught but this performance is unparalleled.

—We clip the following from the Memphis Avalanche: Competition in freights by rival steamboats and railroad lines is just now as lively as has ever been known. An illustration of how low down things are working in the trade from New Orleans northward, is an item in the cargo of the Continental, which vessel passed up from New Orleans for St. Louis yesterday morning. A well known restaurateur of this city, who buyers his wines and things on the other side of the big salt pond, received, by the Continental, half a dozen cases of foreign grape juice, upon which he paid a total freight bill of 75 cents. A dray hauled the goods from the levee to his wine cellar for 75 cents more, and thus he received for $1,50, freight charges, drayage and all, a whole cart load of goods all the way from New Orleans. When steamboats carry articles a distance of 800 miles for the same amount that a drayman carries the same articles less than 800 yard, there is no need of trying to get up iron barge lines and the like to cheapen freight charges; it is about as low down now as it can get.

—The last session of the Missouri Legislature passed a bill, which was approved by Governor Brown, prohibiting any municipal corporation within the State from levying a wharfage tax upon steamers navigating rivers flowing within or past its border. The city of St. Louis contested the legality of the law and entered suit against the steamers Susie Silver, Great Republic, and other vessels, to compel them to pay according to previously existing municipal regulations. A few days ago, Judge Cullen decided the legislative act valid. In the course of his remarks, the Judge said: "A legislative grant of a power to a corporation does not confer a vested right which can not be destroyed; on the contrary the legislature can modify, amend and repeal a charter or law affecting corporations. The next legislature may abolish the municipal corporation of St. Louis, if so inclined."

—A dispatch dated at Fort Benton, June 15, says: Mary McDonald arrived this evening, seventy-five days out from St. Louis, with twenty-one passengers and 315 tons of freight.

—The following boats are at the Miami railroad and dry dock, at Cincinnati, repairing, etc.: St. Mary's, Alaska, Valid, Lookout, Alice Dean, Groesbeck, Warner and Emma Floyd.

—Capt. Van Hook has had the Henry Yeager's hull caulked from top to bottom; her upper decks and lower decks have been so greatly strengthened that it is believed they'll now bear any bulk or sacked grain, or iron, cattle or soldiers.

—Having a particular object to accomplish, pilots Wash Tenley and Eugene Hanlon have contracted to take the Belle Vernon to Memphis and return for $25 each, without time. This is as good a thing as Capt. Darragh wants.

—Captain Lockhart says he will not close the canal before the 25th of July, and not then if there is a rise. The canal will remain closed six weeks.

—The John Dippold arrived at Louisville on Monday, with 12 barges of coal, and started back the same day with a tow of empty barges.

—A number of barges of coal were put through the canal on Monday, which will be towed to Southern ports within the next few days.

—Capt. E. W. Gould's new Illinois river boat, Fannie Kaeger, had her machinery tested on Monday, and found to all be O. K.

—The Pink Varble comes to Louisville to be wrecked. Her machinery will be put in a new boat to be built shortly.

—The Hudson River steamboats now carry passengers from New York to the Catskill Mountains for ten cents.

—The Sam Brown, the advance of the coal fleet, arrived at Louisville on Monday morning. She was to leave for Cairo and St. Louis on Tuesday with 18 barges.

—Capt. Tom Shields has laid up the Susie Silver at St. Louis, for the present.

—The Leonora blew out a cylinder head at Gunpowder, on Saturday. She will repair at Louisville, and enter the Louisville and Madison trade.

—The Oil City, sunk some time since up Hatchie river, has been raised.

—Quite a fleet of tow boats arrived at Louisville on Tuesday.

Sudden Death.

About six o'clock on Tuesday evening, Miss Mary Jones, a lady about forty years of age, was watering flowers in her yard on South Diamond street, Allegheny, when she suddenly fell to the ground. Several physicians were immediately summoned and every effort made to bring her to, but in vain, and in a short time she died. It is thought that her death was caused by congestion of the brain.

Check Lost.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor Blackmore drew a check for $1,100 on the Mechanics' Savings Bank, and sent it to that institution by a messenger. Some fifteen minutes after the deposit had been made, one of the clerks of the bank visited the Mayor's office, and informed him that the check had been in some way mislaid, and that a diligent and careful search had been unsuccessfully instituted. The Mayor at once stopped payment of the paper. It is requested that any one finding it shall take it to the office of the drawer in new Municipal Hall.

The Calvert Case.

Yesterday afternoon the preliminary examination in the case of Hescher Calvert and Jacob Ochse, accused of highway robbery, took place before the Mayor. The complainant, Rose Smith, was examined and gave in effect, the same statement published at the time that she made the information. Several witnesses were called and their testimony was of the most contradictory nature. The Mayor after hearing the evidence and the remarks of Mr. Coyle for the prosecution and Mr. Moreland and Mr. Montooth for the defence, decided to hold both defendants in $1,000 bail for Court.

Fayette Springs.

Those of our citizens enamored of the Fayette Mountains, and accustomed to summering at some of the cozy resorts near the Fayette Springs, will be glad to know that while a welcome awaits those who prefer Oldwein's, Johnson's, Wiggins' or Snyder's, the favorite old Stone House, kept the last year or two by Bunting, has been leased and extensively repaired by Mr. Cuthbert. Mr. Downer, who is now in the city to purchase furniture and supplies for thoroughly refitting the house, informs us that a number of his rooms are engaged by the guests of last year. Those who may secure the remaining rooms will be fortunate, both in the excellence of the house, the courteous and attentive host, and in the select character of their fellow boarders. The locality is picturesque, the air salubrious, the water pure, the nights cool, the forests extensive, the walks numerous and romantic, and the ladies dress only once a day.

Not for Greeley.

At a meeting of the Young Men's Jackson Association held last evening, Dr. E. W. Swentzel, the President, in the Chair, and A. F. Keating, Secretary pro tem., a resolution was adopted endorsing the Democratic State ticket, and also the following:

Resolved, That we deem it unwise for Democrats to advocate the nomination of a life long opponent of Democratic principles for the highest office in the gift of the American people, believing that such action will be the means of breeding dissension, and tend to the perpetuation of the present administration in power; and so far as lies in our power, we will oppose such suicidal policy.

Resolved, That we deem it advisable for Democrats to get up remonstrances against such proposed action of going outside of our party for a leader, have them numerously signed and placed in the hands of delegates for presentation to the National Convention.

The Hamlin's Station Accident.

A correspondent furnishes the following statement of the fatal accident near Hamlin's station, on Sunday morning, June 16th, on the Pan Handle Railroad, by which two young men lost their lives: The two young men, it seems, were going to Pittsburgh, Pa. Doubtless tired and weary, they thoughtlessly sat or laid down upon the railroad track, at or near the watering tank, a short distance below Hamlin's station. A locomotive or engine going west, ran over them, killing them instantly, their bodies being terribly mutilated. John Martin, Esq., empanneled a jury and held an inquest upon them, when no blame was attached to the engineer, for he could not stop the engine in time to save their lives. They both were strangers and no person knew them. From a pass-book or papers found on one of them, it is supposed one of them was named Wm. Lloyd; the other had no papers. Neither of them had any money. Each one was [illegible] and they were buried side by side [illegible] in the graveyard at Eldersville, [illegible]y afternoon. A large number of [illegible] present at their funeral. Although [illegible] the citizens of the village and vicinity paid every respect to them in attending their obsequies. They were well dressed, and were supposed to be between twenty and twenty-five years of age.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS.

Official Inspection of the Schools.

A circular has just been issued from the Department of Schools in reference to the annual examination in the schools in which soldiers' orphans receive instruction. The vacations this year will commence on Monday, July 22. Previous to that time the Superintendent and State officers will make the examinations. They have prepared a programme of visits from which we extract the following in reference to our own and neighboring schools.

Pittsburgh and Allegheny Orphan Asylum, Allegheny, Wednesday, July 3.

St. Paul's Orphan Home, Butler, Friday, July 5.

Episcopal Church Home, Pittsburgh, Saturday, July 6, A. M.

Home of the Friendless, Allegheny, Saturday, July 6, A. M.

At Philipsburg, Beaver county, Wednesday, July 17.

At Mercer, Mercer county, Friday, July 8. Inspector Cornforth will attend—

At Uniontown, Fayette county, Monday, July 8.

At Dayton, Armstrong county, Wednesday, July 10.

At Titusville, Crawford county, Friday, July 12.

The examinations will commence daily at 9 A. M., and 2 P. M.

Mrs. E. E. Hutter, lady Inspector, will attend a number of the examinations at the schools, and invitations to be present will be extended to His Excellency Governor Geary and the Board of State Charities.

An exhibition of industrial skill and a military drill will form a feature in the examinations. The examinations will be, as heretofore, public; and the authorities of the several schools are requested to invite specially the presence of directors and teachers of common schools, members of superintending committees, members of the Legislature, judges of the courts, clergymen, editors and such other citizens of the several localities as have interested themselves in the work of educating our orphan children.

[illegible]C AT THE COLLEGE.

[illegible]a Female College—Third An[illegible] [illegible]e—An Evening Delightfully Spent.

The third annual musical soiree which came off at the Pennsylvania Female College Tuesday evening, was one of the most enjoyable of entertainments, and received the unqualified praise of all who were so fortunate as to be in attendance. The soiree was given in the Concert Room of the College, which was crowded to its utmost capacity, with an audience comprising some of the most intelligent and refined representatives of our social circle. The room had been neatly decorated for the occasion with boquets, &c., especially about the stage, and presented, when fully lighted up, a brilliant scene.

The exercises began about eight o'clock, with "Gulliame Tell" for two pianos, performed by the Misses M. Campbell, C. Marsh, L. Singleton, and N. Parker. The programme was then continued in the following order: "Maiden's Spring Song," the Misses V. Johnson, N. Barker, and A. Paulson; piano solo from La Traviata, by Miss Nellie Barker; solo and chorus, "Deck we the Pathway," by sixteen young ladies; piano solo, Miss Emma Logan; "The Corn Threshers," by Prof. Christiani; Cavatina "La-mia Les-tizia," by Mr. Paul Zimmerman; "Then You'll Remember me," by Prof. Christiani and the Pittsburgh Amateur Orchestra; "Beethoven's second Symphonie under the direction of the Pittsburgh Amateur Orchestra; "Rondofer," on two pianos, by the Misses Emma Logan and Kate Keller; The "Swabian Maid," by Miss Vallie M. Johnson; Trio, "Dover in the Dewry Dell," by the class; "Cappriccio Brilliante," by Prof. Christiani and the orchestra.

The programme throughout gave evidence of the profiency of the pupils and the success which had attended Prof. Christiani's instructions—some of the selections especially being fine, and the spirited applause which was liberally bestowed indicated the thorough appreciation in which the exercises were held by the audience. This feeling was further expressed at the close when the Hon. Robert McKnight for the company thanked the performers for the entertainment which had served to while away the hours of the evening so delightfully. Mr. McKnight also took occasion to refer to the great success that had attended the College since its organization, and of the rosy prospects, which the future would see realized.

The attendants, many of whom were from the city and Allegheny, seemed perfectly satisfied with the enjoyment offered, in return for the encouragement of their presence, from which fact it may reasonably be argued that the Third Annual Soiree was a brilliant success.

BREVITIES.

Troy Hill will be supplied with water in about one week.

The new school-house on Chestnut street, Allegheny, will be completed about the last of July.

Heid's Brewery which was badly injured a few days ago by the fall of a floor, is being repaired.

Mr. Christ Hoch was sworn in as health officer of Allegheny last evening, by Mayor Callow.

A special meeting of Allegheny Councils will be held this (Thursday,) evening, 25th inst., at 7½ o'clock.

A son of Controller Brown, of Allegheny, is lying very low with an attack of inflamation of the stomach.

A runaway occurred on Ohio street, Alleghany, yesterday afternoon, which resulted in utterly demolishing a light buggy.

The cabinet-makers of this city are still preparing for a strike in order to secure the action the "eight hour law without reduction of pay."

An information has been made before a McKeesport alderman charging a man named McMullin with attempting to commit a rape on a young girl named Jennie Keefe.

A collision between two trains occurred between Church avenue and Ohio street, Allegheny, on Tuesday evening—the result of a mis-placed switch. One of the engines was badly damaged, but no one was injured.

Walter Williams, alias Wm. Mitchell, an escaped Sing Sing convict, was captured in Philadelphia. On his person were found $21,800 in railroad and market house bonds, stolen from the Iron and Glass Bank of Birmingham last week.

City Clerk Morrow was officially notified yesterday of the appointment of the East Birmingham members of the Apportionment Committee, consisting of Messrs. John Eitmiller, from the First ward, and Robert Brom, from the Second ward.

A citizen's meeting is to be held in the Third Ward School House next Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, to protest against the proposed closing of certain streets by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Councilmen are especially invited to attend.

A well known butcher of Allegheny suddenly disappeared from home on last Saturday, leaving about $4,000 behind him—in debts. As he was the treasurer of a certain building and loan associations, the members of said association are inquiring anxiously for him; and wondering if he took their treasury with him.

Mrs. Mary McDonald, the woman who threatened to make an information against the Superintendent of the Allegheny Poor Farm, again put in an appearance at Alderman Smith's office, in Allegheny, and insisted upon the truth of her allegations. The Alderman notified the Poor Directors to meet at his office this afternoon and investigate the case.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Highland school held last night, the following teachers were elected: Principal, George P. Fulton; grammar department, Miss Hannah J. Lyons and Miss S. A. Ackley: intermediate department, Miss Maria A. Joiner and Miss Fanny Kyle; primary department, Miss Clark, Miss R. Ewing, Miss A. S. Christy and Miss W. Gillespie.

About two o'clock yesterday morning flames were discovered in the house of Mr. Stunz, on Carson street, Birmingham. The fire was caused by a candle which had been left burning near to some clothes hanging upon a chair, and set them on fire. The flames were soon extinguished without doing much damage,—though the girl who was sleeping in the room narrowly escaped suffocation.

Ellen Gibson, who several days ago made an information against her husband George for desertion, was considerable surprised yesterday to see her wayward husband come into Alderman Smith's office with another Mrs. Gibson upon his arm. The matter was explained by George exhibiting a divorce which he had obtained from his first wife, in Butler county in 1871. The case was accordingly dismissed.

The Highland Public School Board, Nineteenth ward, at a special meeting on Tuesday evening the 18th inst., unanimously re-elected Prof. G. P. Fulton, the present Principal, and the following corps of teachers for the ensuing term, beginning September next: Grammar department, Miss Lyon and Miss Oakley; Intermediate department, Miss Joiner and Miss Kyle; Primary department, Miss Bridge, Miss Clark, Miss Ewing, Miss Christin, and Miss Gillespie.

A little girl about twelve years of age, accompanied by two younger brothers, was found on Ohio street Allegheny, a few evenings since, and in answer to inquiries, said that they had come from Butler county, and that they were in search of their mother. Some benevolent family kindly provided for them. The next day one of the boys was attacked with the small-pox and removed to the Hospital. Effort is being made to learn something more about the little wanderers.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY.

Class of '72 on a Tramp—South Side the Victim—Excursion.

Yesterday morning the class of '72 of the Western University made a visit to the mills and glass works on the South Side. The class numbers this year 14 members, and it is reported that it is the most intelligent ever graduated. Of course it is, as much more superior to its predecessors as the class of '73 will be superior to it; and it would not be reasonable for the members to confess they are inferior. At ten o'clock A. M., under the burning of the heat of a hot sun, they departed from their Alma Mater, accompanied by two professors, with the intention of making an inspection of the mode of making iron and glass on the South side. Several parties went with the professors in the street cars, while the majority determined to walk—the reasons for this maneuver are not very clear. But be this as it may, nothing was said at the time. When the pedestrians had arrived at Nineteenth street they called for one of their number residing there, and continued their journey as far as the first soda fountain. Now this South Side member seemed to be pretty well acquainted, and in answer to what syrup he would have, said, in a knowing way: "I'll take that mixture;" but it turned out to be a mixture of several syrups, so that all minds were set at ease, and they went on their way rejoicing.

Meeting their comrades with an innocent expression on their bland countenances, at the office of Jones & Laughlin's mill, they gave a perfectly satisfactory account of themselves, and then proceeded to make their inspections, and apply their knowledge of chemistry and physics in explanation of the different departments. Now, it may be a very nice thing to visit a rolling mill in winter, but when mercury is 90 deg. above zero it is not very pleasant to get between two glowing masses of molten iron, consequently the explanations of the learned Professor were terse and to the point. After an hour spent in this manner, the water works was the next place to which they directed their steps. Thence they proceeded to Cunningham & Ihmsen's Glass factory. All were highly pleased with their day's tramp, and one remarked, he liked the practical part much better than studying out and puzzling over the theories.

It is announced that the third annual excursion of the students and alumni of the University will be to Conneaut Lake, where they will try their luck in fishing and boat riding. These excursions have always been a pleasant feature, and it is hoped they will be continued.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGE STOWE.

The only business transacted in this Court yesterday was the filing of an application by Amanda B. Jones for a divorce from her husband, John H. Jones, the grounds alleged being ill-treatment. The usual papers were issued.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGE STERRETT.

In the case of James Dillon, the jury found a verdict of not guilty. The Court ordered that the defendant should pay the costs.

Frank Daniels, indicted for assault, Sallie New prosecutrix, was found not guilty, and the costs were equally divided.

B. Nochten was found guilty of committing an assault and battery upon Conrad Sandrock, Sr. He was indicted upon oath of C. Sandrock, Jr., but a verdict of not guilty was rendered. He was ordered to pay the costs.

John Heibling, charged with assault and battery, was acquitted. Sebastian Ament, the prosecutor, was directed to pay the costs.

John Welsh was indicted for keeping a ferocious dog, William J. Dillon prosecutor. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and directed the prosecutor to pay the costs.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. John Higgins, indicted for aggravated assault was settled on payment of costs by defendant.

The case of Commonwealth vs. Thomas Dunn, charged with malicious mischief, was allowed to be settled on payment of costs by the defendant.

The next case taken up was that of Sarah Holmes, colored, indicted for committing an assault and battery upon William Hinkle, a blind man. Jury out.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

A Physician Shot At—A Fortunate Escape—Wounded in the Arm.

A mysterious shooting affair has created considerable excitement in Indiana county. Last Saturday evening Dr. D. H. Snowden was driving on the road toward Marion, Indiana county, and when within a couple of miles of the village heard a pistol shot, and at the same instant felt a sharp pain in his arm. Upon examining he found a bullet lodged in the fleshy part of his forearm. Just an instant before the shot his buggy wheel had gone down into a rut, to which circumstance he owes his life, as the ball would have entered his heart if the buggy had been on a level. He jumped out of the vehicle immediately and looked about, but could find no person in the vicinity. His wound, which was of a painful character, was dressed when he arrived at the village.

Dr. Snowden formerly resided in Pittsburgh, and is well known here. It is the general belief that the shooting was an attempt at assassination, and detectives are endeavoring to ferret out the cowardly assailant, but with small prospect of success.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Last Night's Exercises at the Female College—An Interesting Programme—Degrees Conferred and Prizes Awarded.

The commencement exercises at the Female College took place last evening at the College Building, on Eighth street. The chapel was crowded with the friends of the institution and of its students, and the loud applause and showers of bouquets which greeted the performers evinced a deep interest in the exercises.

Miss Nettie Brown and Mrs. Biessner opened the exercises by an instrumental duett, accompanied by Prof. Biessner on the organ, after which Rev. Dr. I. N. Baird led in prayer. Miss Nettie Brown and Prof. Biessner then performed an instrumental duett. The Salutatory was read by Miss Lydia A. Greene, of Newport, Ohio, and gave evidence of close study and attention. The essay was entirely free from that cant which usually characterizes school girls' compositions, and contained many sensible ideas, well expressed. Miss Emma P. Sawyer then sang "Little Bird, Why Singest Thou?" Miss Margaret Petticord, of Birmingham, read an essay entitled "Reminisences." The essay opened with a beautiful and appropriate quotation from Tennyson, and throughout was well written and as well read. A vocal duett was next rendered by Misses Kate Brewster and Etta Purviance. Miss Elizabeth Schomaker, of Allegheny, then read a German essay entitled "Mehr Licht," (more light). To those who understood the essay it was doubtless very interesting. Miss Lizzie Reimensnider sang "Modi ah Modi." Although a very difficult piece to perform, Miss Reimensneider rendered it in such a manner as elicited loud applause. The next essay was by Miss S. S. Darrah, of Brookville, entitled "Plus Ultra." The essay was decidedly flowery, though the figures used were for the most part in good taste, and many of them exceedingly appropriate. Miss Mary H. Pershing then sang "Won't You Tell Me Why, Robin?" An essay entitled "Jewels Within," was read by Miss Felicia H. Jones, of Bentleyville. Miss Jones' essay was based upon the hypothesis that as the jewels in the physical world are hidden from view by the mountains, or the Ocean, so jewels in the moral world are concealed, and require effort to be brought to the surface. The valedictory address to the class-mates was especially good. After a piano solo—Prayer of Moses—by Miss S. S. Darrah, Rev. I. N. Baird delivered a brief address to the graduates.

The "sheepskins" were next in order, and with a brief address by President Pershing and low bows from the graduates, the fine parchment rolls were handed over. Miss Brewster sang "Poor though my Cot," which was excellently rendered, and greeted with loud applause.

President Pershing then announced that there was one or two items not down in the programme which would be attended to. The decisions of the committees appointed to award the several prizes had been received, and the President proceeded to read them. The prize for excellence in the special examination in Butler's Analogy was awarded to Miss Felicia H. Jones; the Mrs. Bishop Simpson prize for Mathematics, to Miss Hettie Hazbrook, and the Mary Kidd Porter prize to Miss Nettie Brown.

The regular programme being through, the graduates received the congratulations of their many friends, and the audience dispersed, evidently delighted with the entertainment. It is deserving of the class to say that though small in number—there being but five in the class—they acquitted themselves in a manner which reflected credit upon themselves and the Institution.

CORRESPONDENCE.

New Market College.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW MARKET COLLEGE, June 18, 1872.

Editors Gazette:—After the lapse of one year we are again attending the commencement exercises of this institution. A few abridged notes may not be uninteresting to your readers. One word in regard to the plan of this College. The one study system is the basis of action. The student takes up one study at a time, applies all his energies to it, and finishes it in about one month (except in languages, or exceedingly intricate branches), thus finishing in the term of three months, three branches, or the same number that is usually finished in the same length of time where the many study system is practiced. Prof. A. D. Lee stands at the head. His labors thus far have been crowned with great success. He is surrounded by a faculty of excellent teachers. They with such a leader cannot fail to make New Market a noble College, and the one study system a success.

On last Sabbath the exercises proper commenced. At 10½ o'clock in the morning a large audience convened to listen to the baccalaureate sermon, which was delivered by Rev. J. J. Moffit. In the afternoon Rev. J. D. Vail delivered the annual sermon. In the evening Rev. J. P. Saddler gave to a good Audience a plain practical sermon.

Monday evening was the next occasion on which a public performance took place. At that time the reading contest occurred for the "Anna Lacy Watkins" prize, the prize being a valuable silver cup. There were twenty-three contestants. The readings were generally above the average. Miss Laura Holmes, of Massersville, Ohio, was awarded the prize, and in the estimation of the audience, the seven judges made a wise and judicious decision. A good time is expected here this week.

Yesterday, June 19th, we are compelled to say, was rather a dull day here. We are disposed to censure slightly the managers of these exercises, for the arrangement of their programme. Some performances should have taken place yesterday in the daytime, giving those of us to whom the title of "[illegible]" is applicable, a better opportunity of digesting so much of deep and logical reasoning, than when it is all crowded and crammed into two short days.

But we must say that we were somewhat compensated for our long, lonely wait, by the performance of last evening. The Linnean Literary Association held its annual anniversary at 8 o'clock, P. M. A large and respectable audience assembled to greet them. The performance throughout was a grand success, and evinced much thought and knowledge. The performance consisted of orations, essays, debate, valedictory from retired seniors, and reply on behalf of the society. Some good music was also discoursed. Thus indeed another day. To-morrow the commencement exercises take place. A big day is expected.

Butler Ratification Meeting.

BUTLER, PA., June 18, 1872.

Eds. Gazette:—Butler is warming up to the work, and will give a good account at the polls in October and November. The ticket has been everywhere received with enthusiasm—an enthusiasm which, in my acquaintance with the county politics, I never knew equalled. Republicans regard it as just the ticket to insure success. Something of the feeling existing was manifested last night by a rousing mass meeting held in the Court House, to ratify the nominations. All the leading Republicans—the rank and file—were out, and the gathering was one of the most brilliant we have ever held here. Stirring addresses were made by Hon Walter L. Graham, Chairman of the County Committee; Hon. George W. Fleeger, Gen. Jno. N. Purviance, and Hon. Charles McCandless.

The campaign has fairly opened here, and the work of organizing thoroughly has commenced. The county will be thoroughly canvassed, and you may look for a good report from every district.

Judge Stowe, of Pittsburgh, held court here last week, in the absence of Judge McGuffin. The latter has returned, and is now presiding.

[For the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Eighteenth of June, 1872, long to be remembered by the children and officers of the Protestant Orphan Asylum of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

Through the kindness and generosity of our friends Felix R. Brunot, Esq., and his estimable lady, a munificent entertainment was provided at their beautiful country seat, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad. Not only their ample grounds, fitted up with swings, flying horses and other amusements were at our disposal, but every door of their delightful house thrown wide open. No place was too good for the children that would in any way add to their enjoyment. Great praise is due the matron and her helpers for the good behavior of the children, 144 being present. While free privilege of house and grounds was granted, not a shrub, flower, carpets, furniture or paint, bore vestige of a rude hand or foot. A marked feature of this institution is the willing obedience given to all commands, showing the power of love and kindness, over fear and tyranny.

Providence seemed to favor us in every way, not only was the day clear and beautiful, but not one child was missing; all the family were there. One little four year old, who had been quite sick, and feared she could not go to "Miss Buno's," was sufficiently recovered to join the happy party. No accident occurred to mar the enjoyment of the day, but all returned safely to their home, feeling that although orphans, they were neither homeless or friendless.

The ever obliging Col. Phillips of the A. V. R. R., kindly provided two cars for our accommodation, to whom many thanks are due, as well as for the courtesy of the Ft. Wayne road in granting the privilege of transit to a point nearest the Home, thus relieving all of unnecessary care and fatigue.

May the Great Dispenser shower spiritual gifts on those who have so liberally contributed to the pleasure of the little orphans, is the fervent prayer of VISITOR.

Messrs. Editors:—We the property owners of the different wards of the City of Pittsburgh, desire to know through your paper, whethes the two Honorable bodies of the City Council can or ought to grant to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company the rights of their constitnentse without their leave or consent. If they do, wd believe such an act to be most oppressive and cruel, and would deserve the rebuke of all, and one which we will test by law but we do hope that there are in those Honorable bodies a sufficient number of gentlemen who will be able to control and carry their point against the Rail-road Company, showing to the world at large, that they are men of honesty and integrity, who in there faithful discharge of their duty will not be on the one hand dazzled by gold, nor on the other intimidated through fear, the giving away of Washington street to the Rail-road Company, would be injurous to all, but how much more so would it be to those men who after paying for the grading, and paving of this street, now to have it taken from them and destroying their property, making it worthless, we ask in the name of all that is holy, where is justice if such should be done. MANY CITIZENS.

Messrs. Editors.—We are of the opinion that any gentleman who has a deep interest in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and who at the same time is a member of City Councils—we can hardly expect such a gentleman to vote against the interests of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and last, but not least, we do believe that either the City Councils or the Railroad Company that would for one moment interfere or tear up Washington street, would by so doing be acting dishonorable to the memory of that great and good man who the street was named after. I mean the noble General Washington.

3 MANY CITIZENS.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

Henry Clee made an information against Nathaniel Miller, charging him with false pretense. The deponent alleges that Miller obtained board to the amount of $14.50 from the defendant's mother, under the pretense that he was a clerk in the Gazette office. This is the third information of this character that has been made against Miller. Alderman McMasters issued a warrant.

John O'Brien makes an information before Alderman McMasters against John McMahon, for assault and battery. The plaintiff, it is alleged, was coming home from his work when McMahon made an attack upon him, knocking him down and kicking him. O'Brien presented two very black eyes as evidence of the truth of his assertion.

Philip Stanton alleges that two men named Michael Doyle and Michael Herson, made an attack upon him yesterday on Penn street, near Twelfth, and knocking him down, breaking his jaw bone and otherwise injuring him. He was so badly injured that Alderman O'Donnell was obliged to go to his home to take his testimony. Dr. McCann dressed his wounds.

Information was made yesterday before Alderman Smith, of Allegheny, against Mrs Philopina Shroth, charging her with keeping a disorderly house. Warrant issued.

Before Mayor Callow Ordinance Officer Gray yesterday made an information against John Huckestine, a member of Allegheny Select Council, for obstructing Beuna Vista street with building material. A warrant was issued.

Before Alderman O'Donnell Henry Schilbauch made an information against Robert McEnnity, charging him with the surety of the peace. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Ellen Thompson charges W. J. Kennedy with keeping a ferocious dog. She alleges that the dog attacked her little boy about eight years of age, and inflicted a severe wound on his leg. Since then the limb has swollen and she is afraid the child will suffer from the hydrophobia. Alderman O'Donnell issued a warrant for the arrest of Kennedy.

Amelia McMurdy makes information before Alderman Taylor, charging Christina Baker with assault and battery. The defendant, it is alleged, made a very unladylike attack upon Amelia, knocking her down with her fist and kicking her. A warrant is issued, and the pugilistic Christina will have an opportunity of explaining.

Albert Staley yesterday made an information before Alderman McMasters against S. Derothermel, charging him with larceny by bailee of $46. Staley alleges that he gave the above mentioned sum to the defendant to pay to the Sheriff, but that he appropriated it to his own use. Warrant issued.

John Sullivan was yesterday fined fifty dollars and costs by Mayor Callow for drunkenness and exposing his person.

Mary Hann yesterday made an information against her husband, George Hann, charging him with disorderly conduct. She alleged that George came home drunk, and acted in a very disorderly manner; he finally seized an axe and attempted to cut her, when the neighbors interfered. He next secured a revolver and fired a shot at her. An officer was then called, who took George before Mayor Callow when he was fined fifty dollars and costs. In default of payment he was committed to the work house for ninety days.

The Despotism of the Dressmaker.

[From the Chicago Post.]

Talk about decaying monarchies in Europe! Of famine in Persia; of Spanish crises in ministries and cortes prorogued; of the failure of the Alabama treaty, the persecution of the Jews in Roumania, the self-imprisonment of the Pope, disintegration of Austria and dishonor of Saxon England! Why should we cross the sea to find catastrophe? Why point to the decadence of distant dynasties, ignoring the danger of a mightier despotism, not at our own doors merely, but inside our doors, at our own firesides, under the shadow of lares and penates, carrying disease and death to the nearest and dearest of our family circle, and gradually discovering to the gaze of a desperate and helpless world, forms of torture unknown to the Inquisition, and a mercilessness not mentioned by the biographers of an Alva? Why speak of the despot of the Danube when we open not our mouths at the dressmaker?

This thing should be stopped. A woman cannot get a dress made now-a-days except by giving six weeks' notice that she intends, Deo, and dressmaker volente, humbly, yea, tearfully, to beg that she may presume to ask to have a dress made at the dressmaker's gracious convenience. And then she will run the risk of Madame's lofty snub. It makes no difference about the consequences. It does not matter that she has engaged Heimbold's cottage at Long Branch and must be there, or die—yes, DIE—at a certain fixed day. Her cousin's marriage is of no account; nor the funeral of Next Door's grandmother, whose mortal remains have lain for four days above ground waiting for the female mourners to get their sable toggery. Her own child's birth-day ball cannot be mentioned to Madame with the faintest hope of reaching her heart or her bosom.

And then the prices! Look at them. The fabric is not costly as women count in these later days of the republic:

30 yards silk, at $3.50	$ 70 00
Cutting	10 00
Supplementary trimming furnished by Madame	28 00
An extra fitting	5 00
Accidentals	14 00
Making	45 00
Total	$172 00
Cost of fabric	70 00
Madame's bill	$102 00

And yet it is well. May the reign of terror continue! May every Madam Dressmaker maintain her monarchy over every woman in the land, until the Satan of folly and fashion shall be driven from society. If every tradesman's wife must be a Eugenie, she should pay the price Eugenie paid. If every American girl is willing to be withered away in bone and steel about her vital organs, and by poisons on her face, and miasma and vermin in her hair, the tyranny of the dressmaker will but hasten her dissolution. Under the present condition of society, it ought to be hastened. If the despotism of dressmakers is kept up long enough, women may, after awhile, make their own dresses, bankrupt fewer husbands, impoverish fewer fathers, improve their minds and strengthen their bodies in the process, and confer a benefit upon the world at large as well as upon themselves. But that blessed time is probably not close enough at hand to disturb the Miderites.

Cotton Crop.

The following is a brief synopsis of the statements of area and condition of the present cotton crop, which will appear in the June report of the Department of Agriculture. An increase in the cotton area is reported in every State. A very small proportion of county returns show a decrease of acreage. Planting was generally retarded by a protracted season of drouth, and fields that were planted late, occasioned some trouble in obtaining perfect stands; but the recent and renewed efforts in planting have finally secured stands of average completeness. The per centage of increase in area, last year's crop being the basis of comparison, is as follows:

North Carolina	16	South Carolina	9
Georgia	12	Florida	10
Alabama	11	Mississippi	10
Louisiana	11	Texas	18
Arkansas	16	Tennessee	12

The average increase throughout the Cotton States will approximate 13 per cent. Texas has naturally made the largest relative increase, not only having enjoyed a favorable season for planting, but also during the past year having received accessions of immigrants, who are cotton planters. The condition of the plant throughout the cotton section is very nearly a full average. Separating the Atlantic from the more Western States, the former stand a little below an average. The latter are fully up to the standard of fair condition.

The drouth which prevailed in April and the first half of May delayed the growth, and cold nights in the more northern belt had a further retarding effect; but the abundant rains and genial temperature which followed, have wonderfully invigorated and advanced the crops. The following figures represent the condition of cotton in the several States, one hundred standing for an average: North Carolina, 96; South Carolina, 92; Georgia, 96; Florida, 95; Alabama, 105; Mississippi, 104; Louisiana, 100; Texas, 98; Tennessee, 101.

How Bennett's Mother-in-Law Tried to "Run" the Herald—The Result.

The Herald soon became to be regarded as infallible in all matters connected with the stage, and managers and actors always deprecated its censure and strove by every means in their power to conciliate its good will. When Wikoff came to this country as business manager for Emmie E. Ellsler, he took pains to propriate the favor of Mr. Bennett. He toadied and fawned upon him with such a fulsome adulation, as to create a feeling of profound disgust, and when the editor departed on his nuptial tour, he advised the person whom he left in charge of the paper, not to be bothered much by that fellow Wikoff. Ellsler was at that time in Philadelphia, and on her return to fill an engagement at the Park theater, Wikoff called at the office and demanded to have a long rigmarole of an article he had written published in the editorial columns. It was represented to him such a thing was inconsistent with the character of the paper—that the reporter would give such an account of the dancer's performance as might be proper. Wickoff left in a huff, and presently returned with a message from Mr. Bennett's mother-in-law, directing that the article should be inserted as be desired. Wikoff was told that Mrs. Crean might go to the bowwows, and it was intimated to him that if he did not make a speedy departure the usual way, he would make his exit by the window.

On Mr. Bennett's return, after some comments upon the manner in which the paper had been conducted in his absence, he remarked, "You had some trouble with Wikoff, didn't you?"

"Nothing worth mentioning," was the reply.

"You told him Mrs. Crean might go to the devil?"

"Yes, I did."

"Well, she may"—and there the conversation ended.

The Tenacity of Truth.—When a nation as clear-headed as the Americans once become convinced, from long experience and observation, that an article posseses superior excellence as a medicine, not all the preposterous clamor of all the worthless nostrum venders in the universe can shake their belief in its efficiency. Truth is a very tenacious thing, as these worthies are beginning to discover. PLANTATION BITTERS has too firm a hold upon the popular esteem to be in the slightest degree effected by the cold water diatribes which the advertisers of fermented slops, "without a particle of alcohol," are so fond of launching against alcoholic preparations. The public knows very well that this peerless renovant and tonic does contain spirits, but it also knows that they are of the purest and most wholesome description, viz.; fine old St. Croix, the most active and beneficial diffuser of its remedial and invigorating properties throughout the system which could possibly be adopted. THE CHILD'S INQUIRY.

Carl Schurz sat down one evening late,
To rest his weary head,
When his little son came into the room,
And looking at him said:

"Who is this Horace Greeley, pa,
That people call so wise?
Is he some giant tall enough
To reach unto the skies?"

"Oh, no, my child, about as large
As I or Governor Brown:
'Twas not his stature made him great,
Or won him his renown.

"But he it is who nobly bailed
Jeff Davis from his cell,
And now we want for President
The man who did so well."

"But, then, papa, was not old Jeff
A traitor to the State?
You used to run him down and say
That hanging was his fate.

And wouldn't Horace Greeley, pa,
If he were President,
Bail out and pardon every rogue
Who was to prison sent?"

"Oh, no, my child, Jeff Davis was
An enemy in war;
But he who bails a common rogue
His neighbors all abhor."

"Then, pa, if I should steal a horse,
I'd steal a hundred more,
I would be great and get bailed out,
Like Jeff Davis did before?"

"Oh, no, my child, the Gospel says
That you should always do
To every person as you would
That they should do to you."

"But, pa, did Horace Greeley think
That in some future day,
He'd want bail when he should try
His country to betray?"

* * * * *

The Senator could say no more—
So, turning quickly, said:
"It's nine o'clock, my little boy;
'Tis time you were in bed."

PRESIDENT GREELEY.

The Decline and Fall of the United States.

[From the New York Times.]

[Frank Leslie, proprietor of an obscene paper called Day's Doings, is one of the leading supporters of Horace Greeley. A few months ago he published the following description of the results of "President Greeley's rule." It is quite fitting that a man of bad character and the owner of publications which have debauched and ruined thousands of young persons, should now be combining with the Tammany Ring in support of Horace Greeley.]

THE FALL OF AMERICA.

You ask me to tell you, my children, of the events which immediately preceded the destruction of the once great American Union, and the capture of the country by its present European rulers, and to say something, also, of the cause which led to these deplorable results. I undertake the task with a heavy heart, for when I revert to that terrible crime I cannot help contrasting our proud condition up to that fatal year with the humiliating position occupied now by the American people. The story is a short one. In the fall of 1872 Horace Greeley, the editor of a newspaper in New York, was elected President of the United States. The people voted for him because they thought he was an honest man. And so he was. But he was also vain and weak, and he entertained certain fanatical and preposterous notions—about agricultural matters, for instance—which he was determined to force upon the people at all hazards, and despite all opposition. He believed, among other things, that every man ought to go to the West to earn his bread, and long before he was chosen President he used to advise everybody to move to that region, as a cure for all the disasters that could befall the human family.

DRIVING THE SEA-BOARD POPULATION WEST.

As soon as he reached the Executive Mansion, which we used to call the White House, President Greeley organized an army of 200,000 men and proceeded to force the entire population of the sea-board States westward at the point of the bayonet. The utmost violence was used. Those who resisted were shot down, and their dead bodies were carted off to a national factory which the President established for making some kind of fantastical fertilizer. All the large cities of the East were depopulated, and the towns entirely emptied. The army swept before it millions of men, women and children, until the vast plains west of Kansas were reached, when the pursuit ceased and the army was drawn up in a continuous line, with orders to shoot any person who attempted to visit the East. Of course hundreds of thousands of those poor creatures perished from starvation. This seemed to frighten President Greeley, and he sent a message to Congress recommending that 700,000 volumes of a book of his, entitled "What I Know About Farming," should be voted for the relief of the starving sufferers. This was done, and farming implements and seeds were supplied; and then the millions of wretched outcasts made an effort to till the ground. Of the result of this I will speak further on.

ALL EUROPE IN ARMS AGAINST AMERICA.

In the meantime the President was doing no little harm to the country in another way. His handwriting was so fearfully and wonderfully bad that no living man could read it. And so when he sent his first annual message to Congress—the document was devoted wholly to the tariff and agriculture—a sentence occurred which subsequently was ascertained to be, "Large cultivation of rutabagas and beans is the only hope of the American nation, I am sure." The printers, not being able to interpret this, put it in the following form, in which it went to the world: "The Czar of Russia couldn't keep clean if he washed himself with the whole Atlantic Ocean once a day!" This perversion of the message was immediately telegraphed to Russia by the Russian Minister, and the Czar was so indignant that he immediately declared war.

Just this time President Greeley undertook to write some letters to Prince Bismarck, upon the subject of potato-rot, and, after giving his singular views at great length, he concluded with the statement that, if the Emperor William said that subsoil plowing was not good in light soil, or that guano was better than bone dust, he was "a liar, a villain, and a slave!" Of course the Emperor also immediately declared war, and became an ally of Russia and of England, against which latter country Mr. Greeley had actually begun hostilities already, because the Queen, in her speech from the throne, had declared the Tribune's advocacy of a tariff on pig iron, incendiary and calculated to disturb the peace of nations.

Unhappily, this was not the full measure of our disasters. The President had sent to the Emperor of Austria a copy of his book, "What I Know, &c.," with his autograph upon a fly-leaf. The Emperor mistook the signature for a caricature of the Austrian eagle, and he readily joined in the war against the United States; while France was provoked to the same act by the fact that when the French Minister came to call upon Mr. Greeley to present his credentials, the President, who was writing an editorial at the time, not comprehending the French language, mistook the ambassador for a beggar, and without looking up handed him a quarter and an order for a clean shirt, and said to him, "Go West, young man—go West!"

PRESIDENT GREELEY AND CABINET HANGED.

So all these nations joined in making war upon the United States. They swooped down upon our coast and landed without opposition, for those exposed portions of our unhappy country were absolutely deserted. The President was afraid to call away the army from Kansas at first, for fear the outraged people upon the plains would come east in spite of him. But at last he did summon the army to his aid, and it moved to meet the enemy. It was too late. Before the troops reached Cincinnati the foreigners had seized Washington and all the country east of the Ohio, and had hung the President, the Cabinet, and every member of Congress. The army disbanded in alarm, and the invaders moved to the Far West, where they found the population dying of starvation, because they had followed the advice of Greeley's book, to "Try, for your first crop, to raise limes; and don't plant more than a bushel of quicklime in a hill!" Of course, these wretched people were at the mercy of the enemy, who—to his credit be it said—treated them kindly, fed them, and brought them back to their old homes.

UTTER RUIN OF THE REPUBLIC.

You know what followed—how Prince Frederick William of Prussia ascended the American throne, and the other humiliations that ensued. It was a fearful blow to Republicanism—a blow from which it will never recover. It made us, who were freemen, a nation of slaves. It was all the result of our blind confidence in a misguided old man, who thought himself a philosopher, but who was actually a fool. May heaven preserve you, my children, from the remorse I feel when I remember that I voted for that bucolic old editor.

Four cases of cauliflowers, through in seven days from the stalks were recently received in New York from Sacramento, California. The cases were packed each with eight dozen heads, wrapped in paper, and the freight alone of the consignment amounted to $68.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.
To Men of Capital.
An Excellent Business Chance.

The undersigned, assignee of the firm of SAMUEL MASON & SONS, will expose to Public Sale, on

TUESDAY, July 9, 1872,

At 10 o'clock A. M., the Machinery, Tools, Material and Office Furniture of the New Brighton Cutlery Works.

These Works are situated in New Brighton, Beaver county, Pa., 28 miles north-west from Pittsburgh, on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago and Erie and Pittsburgh Railways.

The Works are now in operation and in good order. The Cutlery has obtained a first-class reputation and the demand for it is constantly increasing.

To parties who wish to engage in a profitable manufacturing business with a comparatively small capital, a rare opportunity is here offered.

The premises and motive power, which belong to a Building Association, can be leased on the most favorable terms.

For further particulars call on or address

LAKE HOUSE,
Stoneboro, Mercer County, Pa.

This celebrated house, having been recently refurnished, will be open for the reception of guests Monday, June 10th, 1872. Persons wishing to engage rooms or other information may address to SAMUEL ROSENBURG, Stoneboro, Pa.

This favorite Summer Resort is delightfully situated a few rods from Sandy Lake, the most beautiful sheet of water in Pennsylvania, and is well stocked with fish and pleasure boats. Fishing tackle of all kind under the charge of an experienced sailing master. Having refitted the billiard room and Tennis alley in first class style, also barber shop, bath room and livery stable connected with this favorite resort.

Seekers for health, as well as for recreation and fine Rural Scenery, will find in the Chalybeate Spring, on the grounds, all the virtues of tonic treatment found at the most celebrated watering places. By chemical analysis, one gallon of water was found to contain 10.80 grains of Mineral substances, consisting principally of Carbonate of Lime, held in solution by Carbonic Acid Gas, associated with small quantities of Carbonate of Protoxide of Iron, Sulphate of Magnesia, Chloride of Sodium, and traces of Silica and organic matter.

The analysis was made by the Professor of Chemistry in the Laboratory of the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

ORDINANCES.

AN ORDINANCE—Relating to Health Matters in the City of Allegheny.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Select and Common Councils of the City of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the Committee on Health be and is hereby authorized to employ a Health Officer, at the annual salary of eight hundred dollars.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Health Officer to make information in the name of the Corporation, before the Mayor or any Alderman of the city, against any person or persons violating the Ordinances relative to nuisances, or any of the provisions thereof; for violating the Ordinances relative to Night Soiling, or any of the provisions thereof; for violating the Ordinances relative to Privies, or any part of the provisions thereof; for violating the provisions of Section 24, page 183, of the City Code, relating to casting rubbish on the street.

SEC. 3. All the fines, forfeitures and penalties provided for by the Ordinances shall be recovered as provided for by the Ordinances relating to Penalties and Fines, and when recovered shall be paid over to the City Treasurer for the use of the Health Committee. The Health Officer shall report to the Committee on Health the names of all parties against whom informations have been made by him, for violations of any of the provisions of this or existing Ordinances relating to the health of the city, and before whom made, with the amount of fines recovered.

SEC. 4. All practising physicians in the city of Allegheny are respectfully requested to furnish to the Health Officer of said city, a report of all cases of small pox attended by them, and such other contagious diseases as the Committee may from time to time direct, within twenty-four hours after the appearance of the disease.

SEC. 5. Upon receiving such report, it shall be the duty of the Health Officer to visit the houses or residences of the diseased parties, and those whom he shall find in indigent circumstances he shall report to the Poor Directors of said city their names and residences.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the Directors of the Poor of said city to provide and maintain a hospital for indigent sick, and for the treatment of indigent persons afflicted with contagious or infectious diseases.

SEC. 7. It shall be the duty of the Physician to the Directors of the Poor to prescribe for all indigent sick of the city.

SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of the undertaker having in charge the interment of any deceased person or persons, to furnish to the Health Officer a certificate of the attending physician of the cause of death of such party, upon receiving which the Health Officer shall issue a permit, free of charge for such interment or interments, and any person making, or causing to be made, such interment without first obtaining such permit, shall pay a fine of five dollars, to be recovered as other fines and penalties are recovered.

SEC. 9. It shall be the duty of the Physician of the Poor Board to publish weekly a mortuary report, giving the age, color and sex of every deceased person, and of what he or she died.

300 Beautiful Building Lots
AT OAKDALE STATION!
Tickets, $1.00.

At conclusion of the Concert the Manager will distribute 300 BUILDING LOTS to the ticket holders in the usual manner, but HONESTLY and IMPARTIALLY.

These Lots belong to Mr. S. GILLILAND, of Pittsburgh, Pa., whose title to the same is indisputable, and being situated convenient to the city, will make excellent and pleasant homes for the workingman and mechanic. These Lots are increasing in value daily. A rich six foot vein of Bituminous Coal underlies this property. A coal bank is open and in good working order. This bank, which gives full access to the coal underneath, will be given away with the lot on which it is situated. The coal, valued at 1½ cents per bushel, is worth $39,000. A neat Frame Cottage House is also situated on this property, and with the Outbuildings will be given away with the lot on which it is built. Oakdale is a well known, thriving and prosperous town, and at present contains an Academy, Female College, Mill House, Postoffice, Express Office, and a large number of handsome Dwelling Houses, and taken altogether, is a desirable place for industrious working men to settle.

CLUB PREMIUMS.—To the getter up of a club of thirty a handsome Silver Watch will be given. To the getter up of a club of twenty, Five Tickets will be given. To the getter up of a club of ten, two Tickets will be given. To the getter up of a club of six, one Ticket will be given.

The following named gentlemen, well known and prominent citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny cities, have permitted us to refer to them. They will vouch for the honesty and integrity of the enterprise. Hon. James Blackmore, Mayor of Pittsburgh, and President of the Mechanics' Savings Bank; Benjamin Singerly, State Printer; R. Munson Purcell, Editor and Publisher of the Weekly Mirror, Allegheny City, Pa.; Col. Samuel Kilgore, County Treasurer. As to title to said property, refer to H. S. Floyd, Attorney-at-Law 89 Grant street.
